OTTAWA (CP)—The baking industry has agreed to a simplification of manufacture through elimination of a number of so-called "fancy" bakery products and credit sales, in a move aimed at meeting increased demands with no increase in production facilities or labor employed.

Raids Turn Berlin Into Madhouse

Recognize French Committee

ALGIER (AP)—Canada, Britain and the U.S. have accorded the French National Committee of Liberation recognition as a trustee regime for the French overseas territories which recognize its authority, it was announced today.

Recognition long sought by the French came just three months after Gen. Charles de Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud officially brought their combined forces into existence as one movement. (Canadian recognition was announced this afternoon in Ottawa.)

The announcement was made just 24 hours after Gen. Alphonse Juin, commander-in-chief of French troops in north Africa, told his soldiers, "the hour of action is near."

Political circles speculated on whether the action was connected with reported resignation of the U.S. Under-Secretary of State, Sumner Wells.

STATUS SAME

A reliable source said that the status of Robert Murphy, special U.S. envoy from the State Department, and British Minister Harold MacMillan remains the same, neither having been informed of any altered diplomatic accreditation to the national committee.

The French greeted the recognition with unqualified satisfaction.

Henri Bonnet, commissioner of information, and Rene Massigli, commissioner of foreign affairs, issued statements voicing the attitude of the national committee.

RUSSIA TO RECOGNIZE

The Belgian government in London announced its recognition of the committee Wednesday and it was believed the Soviet Union was about to take a similar step.

The formal announcement was made at a press conference in Algiers where the press was given the statements by the British and U.S. governments which had been previously communicated to the French Committee.

Russian Drive Third of Way Toward Kiev

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
MOSCOW (AP)—The Red Army, driving straight through the heart of the Ukraine, has covered one-third of the distance from Kharkov to Kiev, dispatches from the front disclosed today.

"The Russian surge across the high water mark of their winter advance has forced the Germans to retreat from the region of Zerkov, which was captured Wednesday, the army newspaper Red Star said. This put the Soviet guard about 85 miles west of Kharkov and 170 miles east of Kiev.

Striking across the broad plain 40 miles north of Poltava, a key railway junction, the Russian appeared to be making a bee-line toward Kiev, paralleling the northwestern bend of the Dnieper.

Red Star said the Germans attempted to make a stand at Zenkov, concentrating numerous reserves and organizing special units for counterattacks.

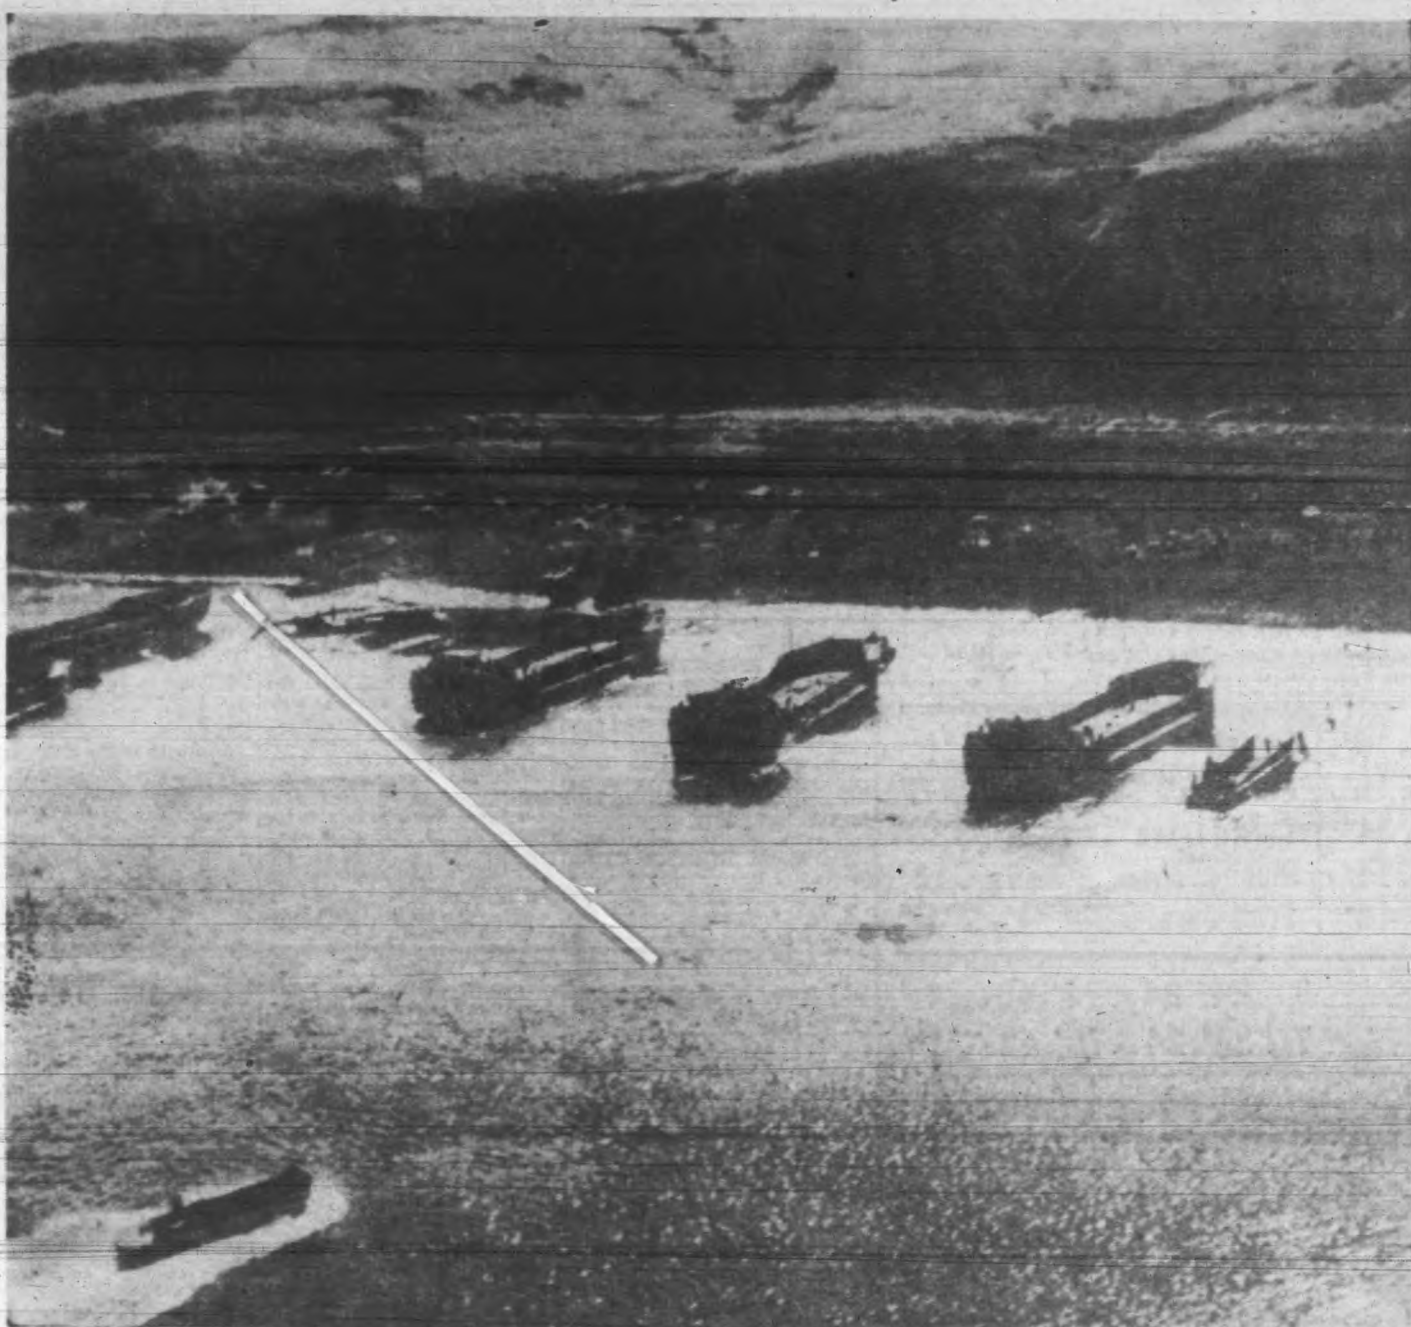

The battle for this point was fought along a river covering Zenkov from the east. Russian troops crossed the river at night, Red Star said, and broke the German resistance, forcing them to withdraw.

The occupation of Zenkov, north of Opolnya which was previously captured, indicated the Soviets were making their main effort directly to the west instead of descending on the secondary objective of Poltava.

Another large German force was reported defeated in a battle for Akhtyrka, 25 miles northeast of Zenkov, which was finally taken by the Red Army Wednesday after a sear saw struggle.

TORONTO (CP)—Commissioner Charles Baugh of London, Eng., has been appointed chief of staff and second-in-command of the Salvation Army. Commissioner Benjamin Orames, territorial commander in Canada, said today.

How Our Boys Landed On Kiska—First Air Picture of the Operation

Made from a navy patrol plane operating as part of the air cover, this picture shows the giant landing barges carrying Canadian and U.S. troops as they reached the stretch of beach along the northwest coast of Kiska. Jap buildings and installations along the shore may be picked out in the picture. As our troops poured out from the barges, they found all the Jap installations deserted. The enemy garrison, once estimated at 10,000 men had fled after the pre-invasion bombing from U.S. and Canadian air forces. Three midget submarines, damaged but not destroyed by demolition bombs, were found on the marine railway at the submarine base here. It was with these subs that the Japs had intended to harass shipping on this coast. Our men found that our bombing had made it impossible for the Japs to use the airfield runways from which they had planned to send planes to bomb centres in British Columbia and Alaska.

Mounbatten Maps Burma Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice Admiral Lord Louis Mounbatten, newly-appointed Allied supreme commander in southeast Asia, arrived in Washington this afternoon and went immediately to a conference with Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of the U.S. fleet and chief of naval operations.

"I am reporting to the navy this afternoon, and to the War Department tomorrow," he said. Success in reopening the Burma Road would serve the double objective of getting more supplies to the Chinese forces of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek and supplying fuel for Allied planes and bombers for a close-up air attack on Japan from Chinese bases. Just when the tempo in southeastern Asia warfare will be increased is conjectural, but it seems likely it will be deferred until the monsoon season ends in October.

Under his command Lord Louis will have U.S. and Chinese as well as British and Canadian forces. Canadian airmen have long been flying against the enemy in that sector. (In London the appointment of Lord Louis Mounbatten was hailed as the initial step for crushing blows at Japan along the lengthy seacoast the Japanese hold from Rangoon to Singapore).

2 Slug Driver, Steal Cash, Taxi

Slugged on the head with a club, robbed of his wallet and taxi cab, Larry Lee, 1410 Pembroke Street, driver for the Quarter Cab Co., was left in a dazed condition on Selkirk Street Wednesday night.

City, Esquimalt, B.C. and other municipal police were on the lookout today for a sailor and civilian, who Lee said attacked him.

The taxi cab was recovered early today from Herald Street by Constable Norman Galbraith. City police turned the cab over to J. Lennox of the company after Detective David Donaldson had examined it for fingerprints.

Lee said today that the sailor and civilian were out to get him, apparently having been tipped off that he was carrying a large sum of money.

Lee, however, was suspicious when the pair waited half an hour to be taken in his cab to 935 Selkirk Street in Victoria West. He disposed of his money before he took the pair into his cab. Arriving at the Selkirk Street destination, Lee said, he was suspicious when neither passenger produced money to pay the fare.

Then the sailor struck him on the head from the back seat of the cab, while the civilian began to rifle his clothing for the money. Lee said the pair had apparently planned the hold-up, because both had the rear doors of the cab open and moved to thwart him when he tried to escape from the cab, and neither left the vehicle so he could make a getaway in the car.

The pair took about $7 company money and about $3 of Lee's personal money. Lee suffered bruises on the head and wrists.

Nazi Destroyers Sink 2 Swedish Craft In North Sea

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Three German destroyers sank two Swedish boats in the North Sea off the northwest tip of Denmark Wednesday night, the Swedish news agency reported in a Gothenburg dispatch today.

A foreign office spokesman said that if such an attack was made, the Swedish government would regard it as an "extremely serious" affair and the worst in a series of incidents involving Germany since the sinking of the Swedish submarine Ulven April 16.

Grandi Reported On Peace Mission

BERNE (AP)—An Italian newspaper report to the Zurich newspaper Die Tat said today that a diplomatic mission headed by Count Dino Grandi, former Italian ambassador to Britain, had arrived in Lisbon and that its aim was believed to be armistice negotiations with the Allies.

(Reuters news agency quoted Die Tat as saying arrival of the mission denoted that "Italian negotiations with a British delegation for an armistice and possibly a separate peace are being continued and even speeded up.")

10 Hurt In Blast

MONTREAL (CP)—Ten persons were injured, four of them seriously, today in an explosion at the downtown bakery of Strachan Brothers Ltd.

Danish Strikes Spread; Nazis Start Shooting

By JOHN H. COLBURN

STOCKHOLM (AP)—German soldiers, sent into Denmark to stamp out the "people's revolt" against Nazi occupation, fired a volley of shots during a disturbance in a crowded Copenhagen market place Wednesday night, the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet said today.

Despite the influx of troops and Gestapo, the general strikes spread to the harbor cities of Helsingor and Vejle, crippling German shipping and boat building, and the state of emergency was extended to a seventh city, Roskilde.

Stories of the shooting, said to have been done in the Raadhusholmen in the centre of Copenhagen — where Nazi machine guns were reported spotted at strategic points — came from travelers reaching Malmö.

Production materials for Nazi submarines and other warships were disrupted when, according to the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter, 6,000 workers struck Monday at the important Burmeister main works in Copenhagen.

No official casualty figures were available, but unofficial and scattered reports indicated about 30 persons have been killed and 150 injured in clashes between the Danes and Germans and as

Nazi Capital Emptied of All But Key Groups

BERNE (AP)—"Berlin lives in real panic" and many persons, terrorized by Allied air raids, are "fleeing to the protection of surrounding forests," an article in the weekly Die Nation reported today.

(NBC correspondent John Macvane said in a London broadcast that German government offices are being dispersed throughout Germany as a result of the Berlin bombings. "Apparently the damage to Berlin by the Allied air raids was greater than had first been indicated," Macvane said.)

The Die Nation article, written before the German capital was given its heaviest pounding last Monday night, and the succeeding raids by Mosquitoes Tuesday and Wednesday nights, said Berliners' "eyes were opened" by flaming red placards signed by Propaganda Minister Goebbels telling them to protect their lives and property.

CAPITAL MADHOUSE

"Goebbels speaks with brutal frankness," Die Nation said. "Otherwise he is powerless at the moment. The wiping out of Hamburg is a terrible phantom, making Berlin a real madhouse."

The city is "in feverish fear, packing trunks, packages and boxes," Die Nation continued. "The war of nerves has reached a peak in Berlin hitherto thought impossible."

"Whoever has the opportunity has sent his entire possessions to the country, to Bavaria, Silesia or Vienna. Freight trains are so crowded that furniture shipments had to be forbidden. A million children have been evacuated . . . with a single blow Berlin has become empty except for those who must remain at their posts."

Die Nation said some persons go "three hours away" from Berlin nightly, while poorer persons go lesser distances. Others stay near the Tiergarten, ready to push into the best shelters there.

NEW WEAPONS

"Eyewitnesses reported the English used new weapons of artificial fire . . . coal dust, sulphur and phosphorus followed by incendiaries, making a terrible explosion comparable only to coal mine fire damp catastrophes . . . the article went on.

"They also said the flak towers do not function properly because the English . . . dropping small metal plates, cause the sensitive hearing apparatus to vibrate constantly and make accurate aiming difficult." (See story of Wednesday night's raid on Berlin page 3.)

Mosquitoes Hit Berlin Third Night In Row

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

We shouldn't pass lightly by Hitler's appointment of Heinrich Himmler, the Fuehrer's bloody-minded executioner as German minister of the interior, a position which carries with it pretty much the power of life and death over the people of the Reich and occupied territories.

The elevation of Nazidom's chief murderer and terrorist to this high position is one of the most significant signs of Hitler's growing weakness. The all-highest is showing fear, not only of the oppressed folk of conquered countries, but of his own people. Himmler is called in when tyranny and bloodshed are the order of the day.

Hitler's appointment of Himmler as minister of the interior is really sensational, for the indications are it has three purposes: (1) to employ a ruthless hand against the growing revolt among the conquered (?) peoples; (2) to maintain a tight hold on a home front which has been showing signs of unrest; (3) to force war workers to continue production, despite the terrible bombing which industrial centres are undergoing.

This doesn't justify a conclusion that the German people are on the verge of revolt. But as the facts stand, German morale is not what it was, and the boss gangster is worried.

Himmler's appointment comes on the heels of the catastrophic destruction of the great port of Hamburg, and the terrible bombardment of Berlin, which is the most important single manufacturing centre in Germany. It also coincides with Denmark's public anti-Nazi demonstrations.

The bomb-shock being suffered by the people of the Reich, and the urgent necessity of keeping every wheel of industry turning, must figure largely in the change of heads for the interior department. There's the colossal task not only of evacuating destroyed areas, but of preventing panic and maintaining order. Equally difficult is likely to be the job of forcing workers to stick to their jobs when bombs are ripping factories out by the roots and destroying the homes close to the plant.

It may be that a collapse of production may overtake Hitler even before the morale of his people cracks. German resources are disappearing in mountainous lots, and we undoubtedly are seeing the effects on the Russian front.

Ludwig Says Nazis Will Turn On Leaders

OTTAWA (CP)—Emil Ludwig, widely-known writer and historian and student of European affairs, said Wednesday in an interview that "next week German soldiers in small sections of the Russian front will have risen and slaughtered their leaders."

"These men will fraternize with the Russians, but Russia will never make a separate peace with Nazi Germany because their ideologies are too different," he predicted.

Mr. Ludwig said he had come to Ottawa as "an idle spectator" on the occasion of President Roosevelt's visit.

A U.S. soldier eats about 25 per cent more than a civilian.

R.C.A.F. Mines Enemy Waters, West France Air Fields Pounded

LONDON (CP)—R.A.F. Mosquitoes kept the nerves of Berliners on edge Wednesday night with the third raid on the German capital in as many nights.

The Air Ministry communique said one of the raiders was missing. Simultaneously with the new stab at Berlin, other aircraft, including bombers of the Canadian group, laid mines in enemy waters, it was announced.

Meanwhile, a dispatch received through Stockholm, said the death toll in Berlin during Monday night's bombing, when an estimated 700 heavy bombers made a smashing attack, would have been enormous if women and children had not been evacuated from the city.

The dispatch, from the Berlin correspondent of Stockholm's Tidningen, said every able-bodied person was mobilized for fire-fighting and rescue work.

While keeping Berlin awake, the Mosquitoes put Axis radios to sleep. One after another the transmitters faded until there was a complete blackout of enemy broadcasts for most of the night all the way across Europe.

BBC and two neutral stations had the air to themselves.

R.C.A.F. headquarters announced that during the night bombers of the Canadian group laid mines in enemy waters. None are missing.

R.C.A.F. PROTECTS BOMBERS

Three German airfields and a power station in western France were raided Wednesday by R.A.F. and American medium bombers, with R.C.A.F. fighters lending protection to the big craft.

A Berlin broadcast by the German news agency D.N.B. today claimed Allied "nuisance raiders" again were over northern Germany and had dropped bombs, causing slight damage. The broadcast was recorded by the Associated Press.

R.A.F. Mitchells during the day bombed the Bernay St. Martin air base, while R.A.F. Bombers attacked the one at Beaumont Le Roger. R.C.A.F. fighters went along on both raids.

American Marauders concentrated on the power station at Rouen and also visited Tricqueville. Filers said few enemy fighters were encountered on these thrusts. An R.C.A.F. squadron shot down one German plane, the communique added, without suffering loss itself.

Two British fighters were listed as missing from other patrols over France and Belgium during the day.

It was announced Wednesday night that anti-aircraft fire knocked down a low-flying Junkers 88 just off a northern Scottish island.

Wednesday was the second successive day that Allied airmen had concentrated on enemy installations in western France. Reconnaissance showed considerable damage to the service base at Villacoublay, eight miles south of Paris, hit Tuesday by Allied raiders.

LE BOURGET WIPED OUT

Meanwhile, a Berne dispatch quoted a Paris report to the Tribune de Geneve as saying the heavy bomber raid Aug. 16 on Le Bourget airfield in the Paris suburbs had razed several villages in the vicinity in a seven-minute period. The dispatch added that nothing remains of the airfield.

The pilots who flew the fast, two-engine Mosquitoes to the German capital reported that even from a great height they could see patches of glowing embers from the fires started by the heavy bombers in Monday night's saturation attack.

One flier said that, although the Germans might dismiss the Mosquito assaults as nuisance raids, "last night we were enough of a nuisance for them to put up as heavy a barrage as if we were there in force."

Hundreds of searchlights stabbed the sky and thousands of rounds were fired by the ground guns during the half hour the planes were over the city, he said.

Hedgehopping Allies Shoot Up Foggia; Bombers Blast Crotone

By RELMAN MORIN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—Swarms of fighters hedgehopped all the way across Italy and shot up the defenses at Foggia Wednesday, preparing the way for the wrecking of the airdrome and 10 minor fields by three waves of United States heavy bombers.

The fighters were specially equipped for the long-distance run to Foggia, southeast of Naples and on the Adriatic side of the peninsula. Twenty-six enemy planes were shot down in combat and Allied sweeps over southern Italy and scores of others were knocked to pieces on the ground.

R.A.F. and Canadian Wellingtons followed the Foggia raids by smashing at the freight yards at Taranto before dawn today.

Rear gunners saw bursts and fires across the targets at that important naval base and railway control point despite a smoke screen which started drifting across the objectives.

Other R.A.F. Halifaxes and Liberators from the Middle East the preceding night attacked the railway yards at Crotone, on the Gulf of Taranto, starting many fires and damaging a chemical plant. All returned from that raid.

ITALIANS CHEER ATTACK

Going the whole distance at an altitude of less than 100 feet, the fighter pilots attacking Foggia said Italians along the route waved and cheered as they passed.

The tree-top level flight threw the whole Foggia area into confusion, outwitting Axis ground defenses and snarling the enemy's detection apparatus.

It was the first time in this theatre that fighters in such strength had flown so far and at such low level (the distance is about 440 miles, round trip, from the nearest airdromes in Sicily).

The Lightnings arriving over Foggia airdrome found it well stocked with parked aircraft, and some formations headed for the plants with cannon and machine guns blazing and riddled the close-packed groups before a shot could be fired at them.

Ground crews and air crews scattered in all directions and machine guns cut them down before they could reach shelter.

Some threw rocks and fired pistols wildly at the low-flying machines, which swept by unharmed in deadly precision, spaced in successive waves five to 10 minutes apart.

Some German fighters attempted to get into the air after the first formation had swept over, but few, if any, made it. Then came the armadas of heavy bombers. Liberators from the Middle East made for the railway freight yards, and while the anti-aircraft crews were still dazed from the terrific strafing Flying Fortresses plastered the airdrome target with heavy bombs.

As a result of the surprise, the Lightnings met few fighters and knocked down three.

KNOCK DOWN DEFENDERS

The Fortresses bored through 60 to 100 Messerschmitt and Macchi fighters and destroyed 16. The Liberators got seven more for a total of 25. The total Allied losses for the day were 15, none from the Middle East.

The reappearance of the German air force in the Italian skies after its complete absence Tuesday indicated the enemy had managed to reinforce his badly mauled squadrons.

The enemy has lost a total of 175 planes in air battles over Italian railway centres and over Foggia since last Thursday.

The raid was described officially as "one of the most successful surprise air attacks of the war."

It was estimated 200 to 300 casualties were caused to enemy personnel by the combined strafing and bombing of airfields. Many parked aircraft were reported left ablaze.

Canada's Diplomacy Now Booming

TORONTO—Though the war closed four of the six diplomatic offices Canada maintained abroad in 1939, it produced a boom in diplomatic activity which has been the final step in bringing this country to the point where she is an independent nation ranking just below the so-called "great powers," says Allen May, special writer for Liberty magazine in the current issue.

"The Department of External Affairs, Canada's equivalent of the British Foreign Office, maintains 15 offices abroad," he writes. "Five governments of the British Commonwealth send their high commissioners to us. Some 13 foreign nations maintain legations in Ottawa and 29 other states are represented here by consulates. As a record, Canada's diplomatic activity since the war began has been sensational. It is even more impressive as an augury of the future importance of this country in world affairs. Possessing as she does such vast material wealth, especially the food which a hungry postwar world will require desperately, and situated as she is—dead centre on the pathways of the great new trade routes of the sky—Canada could not escape becoming a great power if she were to try."

"It is the men of external affairs—young, vigorous and able, unhampered by any ties of class or political favor, who will inevitably shape the course Canada will take in the future. Right now our foreign policy is adequately taken care of for them, as for all other members of the United Nations, by the terms of the Atlantic Charter. Meantime the men of external affairs toll like ants in Ottawa, Washington, London, Kuibyshev, and their 12 other offices around the world to see that the channels of Canada's aid to the cause of the United Nations are kept open and the tide of supplies running free."

WAR—25 YEARS AGO TODAY

Aug. 26, 1918—British attacked on both sides of the Scarpe River as the Canadians entered Wancourt, Moncy-le-Preux and Gue-mappe. The British took Suzanne and Cappy on the Somme, and the French Fresnoy, in Allied advance on the Hindenburg Line.

Only territories in the world without legally established time are Antarctica and Greenland.

His Middle Name Is Attack

FEW APPOINTMENTS TO HIGH MILITARY posts since this war broke out nearly four years ago have captured the imagination of the peoples of the anti-totalitarian world so completely and instantaneously as that which gives Lord Louis Mountbatten supreme command of all the Allied forces in the southeast Asia theatre of operations. In that position this brilliant and comparatively youthful—he is only 43—sailor-soldier-airman will rank in authority and jurisdictional powers with General Dwight Eisenhower in North Africa and General Douglas MacArthur in the southwest Pacific. It is the first supreme command of its character, incidentally, which has gone to a British officer, the choice to some extent no doubt being determined by reason of the fact that the preponderance of ground troops to be used from their bases in India and Ceylon will be British. But Canadians, Americans, Indians and Chinese also will be included in the composite force upon whom will fall the job of driving the Nipponese out of Burma—eventually paving the way for the material aid of which Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek stands in urgent need.

"One of the outstanding heroes" of this war is the term which one well-known American commentator has used to describe this three-dimensional expert in military operations; and the record of Lord Louis to date fits the appellation perfectly. The fact that he is of royal blood, a first cousin of King George, or that he shared the devil-may-care impulses of the monarch's elder brother in the 'twenties, had proved no handicap to him as he prepared himself for the vital tasks for which destiny obviously had fashioned him. For several years before Hitler sent his Wehrmacht into Poland, "Dickie" Mountbatten—as he is affectionately called by his intimate friends—had sedulously applied himself to the calling of the sea. But it is his brilliant role as master of "combined operations" that unquestionably was the all-important factor which governed the decision of the conferees at Quebec to select him for the supreme command in southeast Asia. For it is this area of the global conflict which will demand the application of that abundant ingenuity which Lord Mountbatten has demonstrated so impressively on numerous occasions.

Not until the monsoon rains in Burma have ceased—they begin in May and continue until the end of September—will it be reasonable to expect active operations in the area under Lord Mountbatten's supreme command. But in view of the fact that the Allied aerial offensive over the Japanese-occupied territory next door to India has not ceased for a day during the months when land fighting was out of the question, it can be assumed that this effective "softening-up" technique will yield substantial dividends when climatic conditions permit of the three-dimensional attack in force. In any event, however, the men under this young and resourceful commander will go into battle remembering the Mountbatten dictum: "You can't expect chaps to do what you wouldn't do yourself." This has been Lord Louis's guiding principle during his long days of practical experience as sailor, soldier, airman—and expert in mechanics and military strategy. The United Nations, consequently, will expect great things from the chief of this new command; they are not likely to be disappointed.

Stabilization Schemes

CANADA'S PLAN FOR THE STABILIZATION of the currencies of the world appears now to be a compromise between the schemes offered by the British and American economists. Our experts recommend the establishment of an international fund with resources of $12,000,000,000. Two-thirds of this amount would be paid on the formation of the structure, with 15 per cent subscribed in gold and the balance in the currency of each member country. The American plan provides for a fund of $5,000,000,000, while the British plan makes no provision for capital. The Canadian experts recommend that the initial exchange rates be fixed by agreement among the various member countries and that any subsequent change be made only with the consent of the fund or union. Under the Canadian plan, each member country would be able to obtain foreign exchange to the extent of twice its quota at the rate of 50 per cent a year. This would be subject to a number of restrictions, imposed particularly on those countries which have free gold or foreign exchange.

Each member would have 100 votes plus one vote for each 100,000 units of its quota. The "unit" would be the official unit of account and would be equal to $10.00 in gold, United States currency. Provisions are also made for increasing or decreasing the votes of individual members. It is of interest to note that in the basic principles all three plans agree. The American, British and Canadian proposals recommend the establishment of an international organization strong enough to furnish individual members the necessary foreign exchange with which to stabilize their currencies. All agree that in order to keep the currencies stable it would be necessary to readjust the national economies of the various countries, and particularly their international accounts. All three plans also agree that the question of changing the international value of a currency is of importance to all countries and that no one country alone should have the right to alter the gold content of its currency. They also agree, in principle, as to how to deal with those countries which have continuous debit and credit balances.

Since the Canadian plan is a compromise between the British and American plans, it has several improvements over both. So far, however, none of the schemes has received official sanction. It is quite certain that others will be presented and that considerable modifications will be made before the various nations have agreed to one particular structure. One thing is certain, however, all nations realize that the stabilization of currencies and their maintenance are not merely problems to be solved by individual countries but rather are matters for international co-operation. In this respect, the present situation differs materially from that which prevailed at the end of the last war. At that time, each country was at liberty to depreciate its own currency and was left to its own devices in connection with stabilization policies. Mistakes of the past, then, should be some guide to the future.

An Election Soon?

FROM OTTAWA COMES THE SUGGESTION that Mr. Mackenzie King will waste no time in arranging for a general election. One "long-time observer" of the political scene seems to be convinced that the Prime Minister will go to the country "as the Roosevelt-Churchill candidate"—a gratuitous appellation which will no doubt cause the head of the administration a little amusement. The current issue of Time magazine, however, argues that the Quebec conference, with its "pleasantries and poses, as well as the main Allied business, could do much for Canada's morale—and for the prestige of Mackenzie King and his Liberal party." Interpretation of the "poses", of course, is to be found in the news pictures showing the Prime Minister "in smiling conversation with Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt."

So be it; but there is a much better reason for supposing that Mr. King will ask the people for new instructions before many more moons have waxed and waned than the pictorial proofs of his cordial relationships with the British Prime Minister and the President of the United States. At this distance, and with appropriate regard for what the progress of the war may reveal before any of us are much older, it would seem inconceivable that Mr. King will feel like subjecting his government and the Canadian people to another long session of Parliament for a rehash of former criticisms, or to hear the new acquisitions of the House of Commons point with pride to the growth of the C.C.F. in Canada. With the nation's war effort, at home and abroad, running like a well-oiled machine, there is ample reason to suppose that the Prime Minister will be inclined to take the temperature of the country as soon as he deems such a course advisable. Whatever his critics may call him, they will unhesitatingly agree that he is the master political strategist.

No Change in Chippenham

TUESDAY'S BY-ELECTION IN THE Chippenham division of Wiltshire did not change the distribution of voting strength in the British House of Commons. The vacancy occurred through the tragic death of Captain V. A. Cazalet in a plane crash off Gibraltar, which also took the life of Polish Premier General Sikorski, a few weeks ago. The result of the contest was as follows: Mr. David Eccles, Conservative, 8,310; Dr. Donald Johnson, Independent, 8,115. In the general election in 1935, Captain Cazalet polled 15,370 votes; Mr. A. W. Stanton, Liberal, 9,949; and Mr. W. R. Robins, Labor, 3,527.

Chippenham is a traditional Conservative seat, changing its allegiance only twice since the end of the first Great War—in 1922 and in 1923—when a Liberal held it until Captain Cazalet won it from the sitting member in 1924. Although the late representative was opposed by both Liberal and Labor candidates in the general elections of 1929, 1931 and 1935, only in 1929 did he fail to attract sufficient votes to give him a plurality over the combined tally of his two adversaries.

If there is any special significance in this week's contest, it is to be found in the fact that an Independent took second place in a straight fight with less than 200 votes short of the victor's total. Since the political truce still prevails, of course, neither the Liberal nor the Labor party entered a candidate. How many supporters of these oppositions marked ballots in favor of Dr. Johnson is highly problematical. And because considerably less than half the eligible electorate marked ballots, there is little on which to base intelligent speculation.

Notes

All we hope is that peace catches hoarders with 2,000 cans of stuff they really don't like.

But why can't people behave without law if they know enough to make laws to make themselves behave?

In these times it is well to remember the words of a famous writer: "If a nation values anything more than freedom, it will lose its freedom; and the irony is that if it is comfort or money that it values more, it will lose that, too."

Bruce Hutchison

LOOK SOUTHWARD, ANGELS

THOSE PEOPLE WHO expect a brave new world with all the trimmings after the war and who consider everyone a hopeless Tory if he has doubts about the future, should observe the current political situation in the United States. It gives any Liberal the dark blue shudders.

What is happening in the United States today obviously is not the birthpain of a brave new world. It is the reviving strength of Toryism. It is, above all, the illusion of business as usual and Harding's immortal longing for "normalcy."

The dropping of Vice-President Wallace by his chief is an important symbol of this process. Mr. Wallace was fired, ostensibly, because he quarreled in public with another cabinet member, who should have been thoroughly discredited by now. In reality he could be fired because he is no longer a political asset to the President and the Democratic Party. He is a liability because he is a Liberal.

He is, moreover, an idealist, a man who has seen the vision of a better world for all nations and has reached what he calls the People's Revolution. He is the man who said he hoped to see the day when every Hottentot child had a quart of milk; and on this phrase the forces of reaction fastened with a yelp of delight, for they could use it to represent Wallace as a damned dreamer who would give away the United States. The same reactionaries, in pursuit of profits, were too stupid, as usual, to realize that if every Hottentot were drinking a quart of milk a day, and buying other things in proportion, a vast new market would be opened for American goods and new opportunities for American profits.

They were too stupid to understand what Wallace meant when he calculated that if the living standard of India were raised by 2 cents a day per person, the United States could increase its export business by many billions of dollars a year and provide employment for many people who lost their jobs under the practical management of the reactionaries.

CONGRESS AND PEOPLE

WALLACE IS dropped and Congress staggers more and more into reaction. If it truly reflects the American people, the prospects are not cheerful. Perhaps now that Congress has gone home to its people in the old home town it is finding that they do not share its feelings. Perhaps the American people are more intelligent than their Congress.

But however optimistic you may be about the future of American politics, you can not escape the conclusion that the American people have not yet realized thoroughly that there can be no return to normalcy and the old world they used to know. Perhaps none of us have realized that fundamental fact yet.

We have said we understood it. We have proclaimed it in official documents and shouted it from the housetops and told ourselves solemnly in private that the old days will never return. But actually we have generally thought about the end of the war as a chance to resume the lives we knew before.

EVEN THE SOLDIERS

EVEN THE MEN who are fighting to establish the new world are looking for the return of the old. A study made by competent observers among the soldiers of the United States now overseas shows them to be yearning more than anything for the kind of life they lived before they joined the army. They are not looking for a brave new world, but for the good old world. Let the starry-eyed reformers think about that for a moment and pause before they attack those who think that the best we can hope for is a gradual and limited progress and no sudden deliverance.

For if that is the humor of the American people, if there is no sign of a sudden new world next door, we shall not have it here. To imagine that Canada, on its own, in a conservative world can achieve a local Utopia is to imagine that we exist on a separate planet. More than any nation in the world we are dependent upon the world environment and especially dependent on the American environment.

The issue in America today certainly is not whether we are to have a brave new world or not. The issue is whether the Liberals of this continent can join together and develop sufficient strength between them to prevent a reaction to something worse than the prewar world. No brave new world will come out of the war but if the Liberals stand together and use their heads they may get the chance to lay the foundations of something better in our society. If we underestimate the size of this task and the length of it—a work of generations—if we suppose that we are bound for Utopia now and are only impeded by a few rich men, we shall end in disillusionment, as we did before, and the whole project will be set back indefinitely.

GEMS OF THOUGHT—DEFENCE

"Wise distrust and constant watchfulness are the parents of safety."—Secker.

"Meekness excludes revenge, irritability, morbid sensitiveness, but not self-defence, or a quiet and steady maintenance of right."—Theophylact.

"Evil thoughts, lusts, and malicious purposes cannot go forth, like wandering pollen, from one human mind to another, finding unsuspected lodgment. If virtue and truth build a strong defence."—Mary Baker Eddy.

"Scholars may quote Plato in their studies, but the hearts of millions will quote the Bible at their daily toil, and draw strength from its inspiration, as the meadows draw it from the brook."—Conway.

British Fighters Study World of Tomorrow

By TOM WOLF

LONDON.

DURING a recent tour of installations over here, Brig. Gen. F. H. Osborn, chief of special service division, U.S. army, remarked that in many respects British army education appeared to be ahead of others. This was an unspecified tribute to Britain's Army Bureau of Current Affairs, because the American army has nothing like A.B.C.A.

Most outsiders here are inclined to think of A.B.C.A. as a map-making organization.

But A.B.C.A. means far more than map-making. It means keeping British soldiers—at home and overseas—informed on a wide variety of world problems. The question often has been asked: What makes the Eighth Army great? There are those here who would give much credit to the fact that all the way across Africa, in echelons just behind the central battle groups, soldiers sat on desert sands and thrashed out the reasons why they were fighting and problems of the peace for which they fought.

THINKERS ARE FIGHTERS

A.B.C.A. is even newer than this war. The British army long had an army education corps, which concerned itself with much the same problems as does the U.S. army special service division—cultural and educational projects, recreation and entertainment. But in every army it is believed that a soldier fights harder if he knows why he fights and armed with knowledge of the causes of war, knows his fighting need not be in vain.

Historical accident enabled the British army to go even further. There were in England after Dunkerque and before desert fighting, hundreds of thousands of fully trained soldiers with little but time on their hands. General Sir Ronald Adam, adjutant general of the British army, thought the time ideal for weekly discussion groups on current affairs. A.B.C.A. was organized. To direct A.B.C.A. W. E. Williams, long a leader in the field of British adult education, was brought in.

The plan "works out in this way: one hour during normal duty time each week the men and women in the British services meet with their own regimental officers in informal discussion groups. The officer merely takes the chair, starts the discussion and keeps it moving. Most important, unlike the U.S. army orientation talks, he does not lecture. The more informal the group the better.

To help regimental officers conduct these sessions, A.B.C.A. publishes fortnightly two short pamphlets, "Current Affairs" and "War." The latter primarily concerns the men, material, tactics, training and military aspects of world armies. "Current Affairs" has dealt with such diverse topics as South Africa and the War, Cripps on India, Meet the Americans, the British Empire, the Russian Background, Town Planning, Social Security.

FACTS ARE PRESENTED

While obviously it is impossible to present such controversial subjects without some "slant," generally subjects are handled by presenting basic facts and little comment thereon. The Russian background, for instance, included basic physical and social facts about Russia, a long article by a Moscow correspondent of a liberal British daily, almost nothing about Communism as a philosophy.

The idea is not to lay down a line, but to raise a point and let the soldiers argue it out, left and right-wingers having equal say. This method of presentation has enabled A.B.C.A. to avoid almost all political criticism. Its only major storm was evoked by its withdrawal of its Current Affairs pamphlet on the Beveridge Plan. It explained that the pamphlet would not be issued until after the Commons debate.

Obviously the success of the A.B.C.A. depends on the ability of the individual officers. These attend a short course on the purposes of A.B.C.A., and how to run discussion groups. Every fortnight they receive A.B.C.A. publications, flown overseas, but they are under no compulsion to use A.B.C.A. material. However, a large majority do use it.

garet K. Smith, which sailed from here Aug. 14 with a cargo for her home port, is long overdue and presumed lost with her seven-man crew. Only clues to her fate were bits of battered wreckage picked up off the Cape Breton coast recently.

A medium-sized oil tanker
while on her way to Canoe, N.S., plowed through the wreckage of a small schooner's deckhouse and cabin furnishings.

The splintered debris was iden-

by the vessel's first mate, Jos.
Kearley, whose 26-year-old cousin Horatio Kearley of Bel-schooner.

Weddings

MYERS—THORNER

At St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, in a setting of pink gladioli, cream hollyhocks and gypsophila, the marriage of Jeanne Iris, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Thorne of Sooke, B.C., and Cpl. John Rudolph Myers, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Myers of London, Ont., was solemnized by Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns.

Mr. Thorne gave his daughter in marriage. She chose a two-piece frock, of white wool jersey, with fitted basque bodice scalloped at the neck, sleeves and hipline, and buttoned at the back, with a full dirndl skirt. In place of the conventional hat, she wore a scalloped tulle scarf draped over her head and under the chin, and caught to the dress with the groom's regimental crest in the form of a brooch.

Miss Dorothy Hodgson and Miss Gwen Harris were bridesmaids, wearing rosewood jersey frocks, with matching calots, and Colonial bouquets of roses in the same shade. RSM. C. M. Myers supported his brother, and ushers were Cpl. George Green and Cpl. William Mattis.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold W. Trevett, 1111 Leonard Street. Mrs. Thorne received in a French blue jacket-frock, with large black hat trimmed with blue veiling, black accessories and was assisted by Mrs. C. M. Myers, sister-in-law of the groom, wearing a frock of floral printed silk. Both wore corsage bouquets of pink rosebuds.

The rooms were decorated with a profusion of late summer flowers, and the bride's table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with the three-tiered cake, with white tapers in silver holders and white roses.

After a honeymoon at Qualicum Beach, for which the bride wore a powder blue two-piece wool dress, white topcoat and snakeskin accessories, the young couple will make their home in Victoria.

SHARPE—BOYLE

The marriage was solemnized Wednesday evening at St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt, of Margaret, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Boyle, and first class stocker Walter Alexander Sharpe, R.C.N. V.R., only son of Mrs. Batz and the late Mr. Sharpe, of Seba Beach, Alta. Rev. R. C. S. Devenish officiated, and the organist was in attendance.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of white sheer over taffeta, fashioned with long, pointed sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. A full-length veil of net fell from a Queen Ann headress, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and white gladioli. Her only ornament was a heart-shaped locket, a gift of the groom. The bride was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. D. Boyle, wearing a floor-length gown of pale blue net and lace, and Mrs. Katherine Fénike, groomed in pink net. Both wore matching hats and net mittens, and carried bouquets of sweet peas, tied with contrasting pink and blue ribbons. Best man was Mr. Maurice Cheddington, Winnipeg, and acting as ushers were Mr. Frank Tough, R.C.N.V.R., and Sea Cadet Bugler Tom Boyle, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the young couple stood before a fireplace prettily decorated with gladioli and sweet peas. A three-tier cake centred the lace-covered supper table, flanked by vases of sweet peas.

For traveling, the bride chose a gold frock, matching hat, navy blue topcoat, and corsage of pink roses. After a honeymoon on the mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe will take up residence at 622 Constance Avenue.

MACALISTER—SCHROEDER

The marriage took place Wednesday afternoon at 3.30 in First United Church of Gladys Blain, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schroeder, 3458 Salisbury Way, and Pte. Robert S. Macalister, R.C.O.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Macalister, Macalister, B.C. Rev. Hugh A. McLeod performed the ceremony against a background of pastel-shaded gladioli, white dahlias, and hydrangeas. Mr. George Peaker played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an afternoon frock of turquoise blue, sheer, small white hat, trimmed with veiling, and white accessories. She carried an all-white bouquet of gladioli, sweet peas, carnations and heather, centred with a corsage bouquet of eardens. Only attendant was Miss June Macalister, frocked in rose crepe, with beige accessories and carrying a bouquet of mauve sweet peas, pink carnations and gladioli. Mr. Michael Jacura, brother-in-law of the bride, supported the groom, and Sgt. A. Blain, R.C.A., ushered.

Sweet peas were used in the floral arrangements at the reception, held at the home of the bride's parents. After the toast

I.O.D.E. Gives Six Bursaries to Greater Victoria Students

Six bursaries to the total value of $500 were awarded by the secondary education committee of Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E. at their meeting Wednesday evening; to assist sons and daughters of veterans of the Great War and of men serving in the present conflict. Mrs. F. F. Beckett, Municipal Chapter educational secretary, presided.

Three of the bursaries were awarded to new recipients, two valued at $100, and one at $75. In addition, the committee voted to award bursaries to three junior matriculation students who received them last year, thus conforming to the committee's practice of carrying bursary-holders right through until they matriculate. These additional bursaries are of the total value of $225.

The six bursary-holders are representative of Greater Victoria, one boy being in Saanich, a girl in Oak Bay, a girl in Esquimalt, and the other four in Victoria.

For over 20 years the I.O.D.E. in Victoria has been awarding these bursaries annually. It is a purely local project, sponsored by Municipal Chapter, with all 12 primary chapters contributing. Every cent of the money contributed by the public to this worthwhile work goes to the students assisted, not one cent being involved in overhead.

CHOICE JUSTIFIED

Originally planned to help the children of veterans of the Great War to higher education, the project has now been extended in scope to include sons and daughters of men serving in the present conflict. In addition, applicants must show high academic standing, and must be good all-round students, showing qualities of leadership.

Never has a deserving case been turned down. And that the committee's choice has been more than justified is evident by the fine record of all the former bursary holders. In addition to fine academic record, many of the boys and girls are now serving in the forces.

It is to ensure the continuation of this and other fine constructive projects of both community and national importance in these days when destruction walks abroad that the Victoria I.O.D.E. is sponsoring its gala Victory Fair at the Crystal Garden Monday, Sept. 13.

Salt Spring Island

The sum of $351 was raised by the Red Cross Unit K, Ganges, at its annual garden fete and sale last week. The function was opened by Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor; Col. G. S. Worsley, Victoria, spoke briefly. The Ganges Chapter I.O.D.E. realized $34.30 from its community stall. Saturday, with home cooking, fruit, flowers and vegetables finding a ready market.

Promotion of George Elliott, D.F.M., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Elliott, Ganges Harbor, from the rank of flying officer to that of squadron leader in the R.A.F., is reported.

The 30-acre seafront property, Madrona Bay, Ganges Harbor, owned by D. S. Harris, Ganges, has been purchased by V. L. Jackson of Victoria. The pretty home and island situated in Ganges Harbor, known as Halley's Island, owned by N. C. Harrison of Vancouver, has been sold to Cran & Co. of the mainland city.

Ganges C.C.F. Club held its annual picnic at Ganges Harbor. Fifty members and visitors were present. Supper was served in the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. R. Toynbee's home.

Fined As Profiteer

VANCOUVER—Fine of $50 and $2.50 costs was imposed on Cut Rate Furniture Ltd. in police court after the firm had pleaded guilty to selling a used stove "at a price that was higher than reasonable and just."

Evidence produced by War-time Prices and Trade Board showed defendants had sold a range for $89.50 whereas it was admitted that a fair price would have been $60.

Moosonee Elects Bishop

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—Rt. Rev. R. J. Renison, rector of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Toronto, Wednesday was elected Bishop of Moosonee at a meeting here. Most Rev. Derwyn T. Owen, Archbishop of Toronto and Primate of all Canada, presided.

The new bishop has spent 14 years in the Moosonee area and is well acquainted with Cree and Ojibway, the languages of 10,000 Indians in the diocese.

In 1927 he was made rector of Christ Church, Vancouver, and was elected Bishop of Athabasca in 1931. A year later he resigned the Athabasca bishopric and became rector of St. Paul's.

Centenarian Passes

The Late Mrs. Wm. Milnes Fields.

Mrs. Wm. Milnes Fields, who attained her 100th birthday on June 10 of this year, passed peacefully away in her sleep Wednesday morning at her home, 123 Cambridge Street. She died with one cherished wish fulfilled—to live to see her own 100th anniversary and Victoria's centenary.

The remains are resting at the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home where funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 P.M. W. McKinnon officiating. Interment at Royal Oak.

The former Violetta Cass was born at Castleford, Yorkshire, England, on June 10, 1843. At the age of 22 she came to the United States to marry William Milnes Fields, whose father was a Pennsylvania coal magnate. She crossed the Atlantic in the old "sidewheeler" Persia. After living in Pennsylvania, Iowa and Virginia for some years, Mr. and Mrs. Fields moved to Canada. They drove from a U.S. border town in an open buggy to Regina, where they bought their first piece of Canadian land in 1902. A few years later they moved to Victoria, and Mrs. Fields had lived here ever since.

Her father a Quaker and her mother a Methodist, Mrs. Fields lived her life according to the highest Christian traditions, and brought her family up in the same way. "My father founded a temperance society when there wasn't another one in the countryside. Those were in the days when the church was opposing the state, and we were right in the thick of it. My father instilled fine ideals in us and we have always upheld them. We were all fighters!" she said in an interview with a Times reporter last year. She and her family have long been members of Fairfield United Church.

Of her family of six children, four sons and a daughter survive. All with her for her 100th birthday, they include J. C. Fields, with whom she resided, and C. A. Fields, 633 Linden Avenue; H. E. Fields, North Dakota; James C. Fields, Seattle, and Mrs. A. C. Roberts, wife of Dr. A. C. Roberts, president of the State Teachers' College, San Francisco; also 10 grandsons, five granddaughters and 11 great-grandchildren.

Mass Grave Where Nazis Buried 5,000 Opened Before Reporters at Orel

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

Orel, Soviet Russia (AP)—Under a pale moon shining over a wall of the Orel prison, Allied correspondents witnessed one of the most gruesome sights of this war, in the opening of a mass grave, where Soviet authorities said the Germans had cast about 5,000 bodies of their Russian victims.

These authorities, conducting a careful investigation of this and other evidences of the Germans in Orel, said most of the victims were Red Army men who died of starvation while being kept in the grim, two-story, red brick prison or were shot in the back of the head behind the whitewashed prison wall.

No agreement exists between the Soviet Union and Germany like the Geneva Convention on the treatment of prisoners of war, but Soviet authorities indicated a belief that the German conduct violated even the natural, unwritten laws of humanity.

FIRST HAND EVIDENCE

Although there have been numerous charges of German atrocities during the war, this was the first evidence laid open to American, British and other Allied correspondents in Russia.

They drove through two layers of barbed wire into a field behind the prison, surrounded by a white birch fence, where medical specialists of a special state commission investigating German atrocities were already at work.

Part of a long ditch under the fence was open, exposing a heap of bodies looking more like burlap bags than the remains of human beings. The bodies were placed one by one on a wooden table for study to determine the cause of death.

Over the scene hung the odor of decay. It was strong enough to sicken some of the witnesses and Lt. Gen. Nikolai Burdenko, chief surgeon of the Red Army heading the investigation was confined to his quarters by illness.

300 BODIES DUG UP

Prof. Dmitry Boropayev, assistant to Burdenko, wearing a white robe over a Red Army uniform, conducted the examination with five other doctors. He said about 300 of the total of 5,000 bodies were exhumed and the work was in the preliminary stage. The prisoners of war were lightly dressed and some had been shot.

A skull had been placed on the table showing two holes where a bullet had entered the back of the head and passed through the forehead.

So far no documents were found to establish the identity of any of the victims, but most of them wore the clothing of Red Army men.

The main ditch was 100 yards long, six feet wide and 10 feet deep with the dead in layers of five. There were seven smaller trenches not yet opened.

Doctors, who started work on Aug. 6, the day after Orel was recaptured, drew up a separate protocol for each body to be submitted to a commission. The bodies will be turned over to the city Soviet for burial.

EXECUTIONS TWICE A WEEK

Authorities said they were informed by prisoners who had survived that the Germans carried out executions twice weekly on Tuesdays and Fridays in groups up to 20 men. They said the men were marched individually to a wall followed by a single executioner who pushed the victim to the ground and shot him in the back of the head.

Four other mass graves were found outside the city, the authorities told the correspondents. One was near a brick factory where civilians were executed.

They said that there they saw a number of civilians who could be identified by documents. One was Sophia Belova, actress in the Ukrainian Opera, whose handbag contained greasepaint and music, indicating she had been taken away while at work.

The investigation will be followed by a statement from a special commission like those on Krasnodar and other cities which have been under enemy occupation setting forth the German crimes.

Another investigation is being made to determine whether any

Russian traitors participated in the German destruction of life and property. Only a few have been arrested thus far and authorities said they would be tried after the inquiry.

NAZIS STRIPPED OREL

The people of Orel who survived 22 months of terror and starvation under the Nazi occupation indicated the invaders had never attempted Germanization here as they did in the Ukraine. Residents said little or no effort was made even to teach the German language.

The invaders never started the development or exploitation of resources. They contented themselves with stripping the countryside of everything, taking away inhabitants as well as food.

The situation contrasted sharply with Kharkov and other Ukraine cities, where the Germans attempted to Nazify the people and build up the industries, hoping to keep the region for themselves.

Comparatively few persons in Orel lived to tell the tale. Of the peacetime population of 114,000 only about 30,000 remained when the Red Army returned. About 10,000 were evacuated by the Russians before the German occupation in October, 1941. Soviet authorities estimated 12,000 were killed by the Germans and 14,000 sent to work in Germany last month. The rest died, were evacuated or escaped to other parts of Russia.

AN AGED MAN OF 24
Those who stayed lived on less than half a pound of bread to each person daily, hid in cellars during the battle of Orel, and emerged to welcome the Red Army.

The effect of this period was stamped most vividly on the face of an apparently aged man with white hair and no teeth who tottered out to meet the Russians. "Grandfather," where did you come from?" someone asked. "I am only 24 years old," was the reply.

Peace has not yet come to the residents of Orel. Delayed action mines still are exploding, constantly raising the spectre of death. The city is without water, light or railroad service because of systematic German demolitions. The Kursk-Orel Railway is expected to be established soon, however, followed by the Moscow-Orel line in 10 days.

QUISLING GOVERNMENT

The Germans established a local "Orel government" with a burgomaster, city council and military commandant. Soviet authorities said the Nazis brought a "few landlords" to extract produce, but brought no equipment and undertook no construction. Of the original 29 schools in the city, only five were kept open—and these mostly taught adults military science, espionage and religious subjects.

Peter Pavlovich Kovalenko, 27 years old, a former research worker in the Pedagogical Institute, who stayed through the occupation, said only children from 7 to 10 were permitted to go to school. Others were forced to work. If they refused, he said, they were hanged. One boy of 14 was publicly hanged in May 1 Square in the presence of his mother.

A priest, Ivan Petrovich Mikaveev, 72, who preached in the Nikitskaya church, said a Russian "Quisling" was placed over him.

This grey-bearded priest said the Germans objected to his church as the "nucleus of national consolidation" and put a Russian layman named Konstantinov as head of the bishopric.

Dr. Sergei Pavlovich Protopopov, who carried on his work among the Russian wounded in a military hospital, said the public death rate was high because of typhus and hunger. The birth rate, he said, fell to almost nothing.

His own hospital was forced to move several times. Part of the wounded were taken on peasant carts to the railroad station in a temperature 30 degrees below zero. They were sent to the rear in unheated trains.

"Undoubtedly 50 per cent of them froze to death," the doctor said.

GUERRILLA IS OREL MAYOR

Meanwhile, Mikhail Petrovich Romashin, the greatest of Russia's guerrillas, has returned to Orel to become mayor. His band has been the scourge of Germans in the Bryansk region, where he said the partisans have been playing an important part in the current Red Army offensive.

Although the guerrillas abandoned large-scale operations to save the local population from reprisals, Romashin said they are still operating in small but effective groups, derailing trains, blowing up bridges and hampering the movement of enemy troops and supplies.

Coordination between the Red Army and the guerrillas, he said, was effected by the partisans themselves, who carry radios, hear communiques and know the best time and place to strike.

Romashin, who is 35 but looks 50, has been decorated as a Hero of the Soviet Union for his leadership of one of the largest guerrilla organizations. His most famous job was blowing up the "Blue Bridge" over the Densa River near Bryansk.

Another of his operations was blocking a railroad from Bryansk to a town for six months.

'Flying Ambulance' Crosses Atlantic

OTTAWA (CP)—The first aerial movement of R.C.A.F. stretcher cases returned from overseas was completed recently when 10 casualties arrived at nearby Rockcliffe air station in a giant, twin-motored "flying ambulance," air force headquarters has announced.

In charge of the stretcher cases transported to Ottawa was Sqdn. Ldr. W. D. Rankin of Halifax and New York, known as the "Flying M.O." His hospital staff includes Nursing Sister Isabel Hardwick of Armada, Alta, and Flt. Sgt. Thos. Monteith of London, Ont.

FO. Clifford (Sandy) Sandison of Edmonton is second pilot to Flt. Lt. T. E. Daniels of Los Angeles.

The passengers brought by Daniels to Ottawa from a hospital ship at an eastern Canadian port were tucked away in cots at the Rockcliffe station hospital shortly after the plane had landed.

The casualties included Flt. Sgt. J. Templeman, D.F.M., of Edmonton.

Others who returned to the capital in the "flying ambulance" were LAC. G. W. Robbins, Shaunavon, Sask., and H. A. Williams, Edmonton.

By PETE SALLAWAY

SOFTBALL officials have been at a loss to explain the small crowds in attendance for the senior men's games this season. They certainly don't help matters by getting their teams in action nearly half an hour late. Tuesday night the Army and Navy clubs were scheduled to open their play-off clash at 6.15 but it was after 6.40 when the umpires finally called "play ball."

With two service teams playing there is no reason for such delay. Starting times of the games are advertised well in advance so that both players and umpires have no excuse. Tuesday night the clubs were at the park well on time but took plenty of batting and infield practice as the fans hollered for action. People don't like to be kept waiting and as it happened Tuesday the teams could have used the time wasted. If they had got away at 6.15 darkness would not have halted play after 13 innings. So get busy Mr. Yeamans and Co. and see your games get off at the advertised time.

On a night in October, 1940, in Madison Square Garden, Henry Armstrong fell flat on his face at the end of 15 rounds with Fritz Zivic. His welterweight title was gone and it looked like Armstrong was washed up. Armstrong hung up his gloves, January 17, 1941, after Zivic had punched him into a bleeding pulp and stopped him in 12 rounds. There were so many scar tissues around Henry's eyes that blindness was feared. He

British Fight Panned

Top Price of $115

LONDON (CP)—London boxing writers, pulling no punches in vitriolic blasts against conditions surrounding the coming fight for the British and Empire heavyweight championship, charged arrangements for the bout were unfair to the general public. One writer even said the bout should be banned.

Plans, approved by the British Boxing Board of Control, call for Freddie Mills, king of the light-heavies, to clash with Jack London, biggest man in Britain's professional ring. Sept. 22 at the Queensberry Club, track of space there limits attendance to 1,750. To make the venture pay, admission prices were set at a top of $115 and a low of $9. The limited seating and the luxury prices, the newspaper claimed, faked many a faithful follower who couldn't afford to attend even if he did have a chance to buy a ticket.

Sports editor James Freeman of the Daily Mail charged that the contest under its present conditions "is a breach of the implied agreement which has governed the conduct of all wartime sport."

Fritz Zivic Not Fighting LaMotta

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fritz Zivic said Wednesday he has abandoned tentative plans for a fight with Jake LaMotta at New York Sept. 2 because of a cut over his eye he received last Monday night when he dropped a 10-round decision to lightweight champion Bob Montgomery at Philadelphia.

The former world's welterweight champion said he also is angling for a return bout with Montgomery, to be held here Sept. 27.

LaMotta and Zivic each won a split decision in two meetings here this summer.

QUEBEC HOCKEY

MONTREAL (CP)—Spokesmen for all last season's entries in the Quebec Senior Hockey was a lead-pipe cinch to finish up on his heels if he continued in the fight business the experts claimed.

But here is Armstrong back for a 10-rounder Friday night with Ray Robinson at Madison Square Garden. Armstrong has had 26 outings since launching the most amazing comeback in the history of the game, June 1, of last year. So here he is the biggest attraction in the game in the sere and yellow of a brilliant career which saw him the only warrior ever to hold three championships at the same time.

Armstrong has made another fortune in this phenomenal drive. He has played to more than $500,000 in receipts from coast to coast. His largest gate was the $104,000 he drew with Beau Jack and his richest purse the $25,000 he collected for that one. He intends to keep swinging until the first of the year, then tack up his tack for keeps. He will be 31 in December.

If Ray Robinson is himself he should whip Armstrong. He is conceded everything—age, speed, weight, reach and height. He will weigh 145 to 140 for Armstrong. Not a few consider Robinson the classiest welterweight in years. He has lost just one decision in 45 starts as a professional to Jake LaMotta a mid-deweight. He reversed that. He had a perfect record as an amateur. But Armstrong will waste in pitching. Rest assured of that. That is the only way Henry knows how to fight.

Controversy Over Horse Distribution For Willows Racing

VANCOUVER (CP)—Definite decision concerning staging of the race meeting scheduled to open at the Willows Sept. 11, will be made after a meeting of west coast horsemen and the track management today.

The stage appeared to be all set for Victoria when the track management submitted a scale of purses to President George Irvine of the horsemen's association some two weeks ago. They were just a fraction more than the horsemen received last year, including the bonus paid out after the gross receipts had been checked.

Irvine submitted this scale to a recent meeting of his association, and recommended it be accepted; but the delegates passed an amendment asking for a further bonus again this season if the play in the machines was large enough.

Track officials said they have decided to stand pat on their original offer submitted to Irvine, and if the horsemen wish to accept this the meeting will go ahead with its 14 days program. If not, the men wait until next summer before resuming operations.

In conversation with one of the association officials by long-distance telephone today, it was learned that majority of the horsemen have already signed up for the Willows' meeting. He stated it was practically definite the 14-day meeting would go on at the Victoria track as scheduled.

League said at a meeting here Wednesday night they "hoped" to ice teams again this season. No other announcements were made.

James McCaffrey, manager of the Ottawa Commandos, who won the Allan Cup last season, was presented with the league's 10-year medal.

Ortiz Collects On Willingness To Battle Often

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The world bantamweight champion, mauling Manuel Ortiz, is beginning to collect dividends on his willingness to fight long and often.

Four years ago the little Mexican battler was giving his best for sums ranging from $30 to $60. On Oct. 1 in Hollywood he will defend his title for the seventh time this year.

Ortiz's opponent will be Leonardo Lopez, a fast, sharp-punching young fellow from south of the Rio Grande. He gave Manuel quite a workout in their last meeting and the rematch is a natural.

Fact of the matter is that Ortiz has cleaned out all the opposition in the 115-pound class and is going to be obliged to invade the featherweight ranks. Tommy Farmer, who guided him out of the preliminary division and got him to forsake hot and spicy food and stick to a muscle-building routine of eating, believes the campaign in the featherweight class will hold until next spring, although he wouldn't be averse to a match with Lou Terranova, who recently flattened Jackie Callura of Hamilton, Ont., in New Orleans.

Since Farmer took over, Ortiz, now a prosperous El Centro, Cal., farmer, has fought 29 times, lost one decision he later reversed, got one draw, and scored 16 knockouts.

College All-stars Defeat Washington

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—A magnificent team of college All-Stars, perhaps the greatest ever assembled, battered down the Washington Redskins, 1942 champions of the National Football League, into the soggy turf of Northwestern University's Dyche Stadium Wednesday night, 27-7, before 50,000 spectators.

It was the most lopsided defeat the professionals have suffered in the 10-year history of the series.

This was the first victory for the superbly coached collegians since 1938, when they defeated the Redskins, 28 to 16, and it was only the third time the All-Stars had won.

The collegians scored a touchdown in each period with Wisconsin's Pat Harder, a terrific hitting fullback, making two touchdowns to account for 14 points, for he also kicked two points after touchdown.

All their touchdowns were on sensational gallops.

The crowd saw two great passers—slinging Sammy Baugh of Washington, who threw a four-yard pass to Joe Aguirre in the second period for the Redskins' only touchdown, and Glenn Dobbs, the Tulsa All-American, whose sharp, accurate pitches, brought continual gains for the All-Stars.

Even in defeat Baugh was great. He completed 22 of 42 passes for 273 yards and was firing them to all corners of the field.

Racing Results

VANCOUVER (CP)—Horse racing resumed here Wednesday following a three-year-old, three-year-old, and up, seven furlongs: Golden's Pride (Bovine) $11.70 $2.10 $2.40; Yvonne Joy (Rally) $4.00 $2.00 $2.50; Campa Spur (Woodhouse) $4.00 $2.00 $2.50; Time 1:39.40. Also ran: Lady Cicciobello, Junior's Girl, Honeydew, Dark Devil.

Yanks Demonstrate Power

Beat Tigers Twice

The mathematical lock hasn't been turned yet, but New York Yankees have just closed the door on another American League pennant, their seventh in eight years.

St. Louis Cardinals have been conceded the National League flag for a couple of weeks or longer, but up until Wednesday the diehards refused to admit the American League race was over. The Yankees had been inconsistent and Washington Senators had been persistent.

Now there no longer is any reason to doubt that the Yankees will be the host team when the world series opens in a little more than a month. They finished their last western trip with a bang (it was that door slamming) by drubbing Detroit Tigers in both ends of a double-header 7 to 4 and 5 to 1.

This performance gave them a record of having won 12 consecutive games, a feat not equaled even by the great Yankee clubs of the past and sent them home with a 10-1 game lead.

Rudy York took personal issue with the Yankees in their final games, hitting a home run in each half of the bill to bring his total for the season to 28, and his record for the month to 15. He now needs to hit four in his next four games to surpass the record of 33 he set in the month of August, 1937.

In the other American League contest Cleveland beat Boston Red Sox twice, 8 to 3 and 4 to 1. St. Louis Browns whipped Washington 7 and 4 and Philadelphia Athletics resumed their losing habits by folding before Chicago White Sox 4 to 0.

In the National League St. Louis Cardinals completed their last eastern trip with their second straight shutout of the Boston Braves 2 to 0. It was the champions' 15th straight success against the Braves.

The Pirates, however, provided most of the fun for the fans. In the fourth inning Vince DiMaggio argued with umpire George Barr, and was banished. Al Lopez stood at home plate and clapped his hands in loud applause for Barr, and found that the umpire didn't like applause. Lopez, too, was thumbed off the field, and in the next inning Barr cleared half-a-dozen other Pirate players out of the dugout, because of their jibes.

COAST LEAGUE

In the dying weeks of the 1943 season, the Portland Beavers qualify as the "almost" team of the Coast League.

They have "almost" won enough games to rank first, instead of fourth. To be exact, the Beavers have seen 41 contests slip from their grasp by the margin of a single run.

The 41st game Wednesday as Portland awarded a double-header to the Seattle Rainiers for the lack of punching power. The Rainiers had little difficulty winning the initial game 5 to 3, and snuffed out a seventh-inning uprising to tuck away the nightcap 3 to 2.

Pete Jonas, former Whitman College and Western International League pitching star, was credited with first game victory, his seventh straight.

Seattle gained 1½ games on second-place San Francisco in his twin killing. The Seals lost to Oakland 4 to 3. San Francisco drove in three tallies off Oak pitcher Ralph Buxton in the opening few minutes, but Floyd Strome took over and pitched three-hit ball the rest of the way.

Two unearned runs helped the Oaks to the victory.

Los Angeles used three pitchers in turning back Hollywood 9 to 6 in a seesaw battle.

One big inning sufficed for the San Diego Padres to defeat Sacramento, but they hammered away for a 7 to 4 triumph. The Padres scored five runs in the third inning, and altogether pasted a trio of Sacramento moundsmen for 14 hits.

R.C.A.F. Has No Plans to Limit Hockey Squads

By CHARLIE EDWARDS

TORONTO (CP)—The good citizens of Lethbridge, Alta., are biting their nails over a rumor that only one R.C.A.F. hockey team from each air command will be permitted to compete for the Allan Cup this year. The Lethbridge fans figure the only Alberta R.C.A.F. team would be located in Calgary and that Lethbridge would be without big-time hockey for the first time in years. The rumor, however, is entirely without confirmation.

Amateur hockey's play-for-pay plan is not new. Johnny (Vancouver Province) Park says Si Griffiths, one of the famous old Vancouver Millionaires, collected $1,000 plus return transportation from Vancouver for a season with Kenora, Ont. Thistles nearly 40 years ago. Park says $20 a game was not an uncommon payment for a soccer player's services in B.C. cities around the turn of the century.

ONE-MAN TEAMS

Herb (Winnipeg Tribune) Manning suggests the National Hockey League might solve the manpower shortage with one-man hockey. The schedule might appear: Jan. 15 — Patrick (New York) vs. Ross (Boston); Adams (Detroit) vs. Irvin (Montreal); Tobin (Chicago) vs. Selke (Toronto).

New York Rangers were the first wartime Stanley-Cup champions in 1940. Of that team's 15 players, only three remain—Otto Heller, Bryan Hextall and Phil Watson. The others have all been traded, enlisted or retired. Eight members of the Ranger team which lined up for last season's first game have enlisted.

Softball Playoff Continues Tonight

Senior softball play-off for the island championship between Navy and Army nines will continue at the Athletic Park tonight, starting at 6.15.

Tuesday evening the teams battled through 13 innings to a scoreless deadlock, while Navy took the opener 5 to 3. By the score of 5 to 1 K.V.'s defeated Esquimalt Wednesday night in the final of the Peden Cup series. Turner pitched for the winners.

Major Baseballers May Play Overseas

CHICAGO (AP)—A proposal to send a team of baseball all-stars from the major leagues overseas to play a series of games before American troops will be considered at a conference here Friday, President Will Harridge of the American League announced Wednesday.

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, invited Harridge and Ford Frick, president of the National League, to attend the conference.

Harridge revealed it was planned to send the teams abroad soon after the world's series, which probably will be concluded about Oct. 12.

Defeats Army 12-11; Walker, Dietrick Star

In the wildest game seen at the ball park this season Navy edged out the Army 12 to 11, Wednesday night, to enter the final play-off against the Victoria Machinery Depot. The Navy-V.M.D. will open a best-of-seven series Friday evening, starting at 6.15. These same two squads battled for the Rithet Cup last season with the shipyarders winning the honors after being carried the limit.

Navy showed a lot of fight to win the game after being on the short end of a 10 to 3 score in the top half of the fourth. Blue-jackets finally tied the score at 10-all in the fifth, went one run down in the first of the eighth and final inning then pulled the game out of the fire with two runs in their own half. It was a grand finish to a game that had the fans up on their feet most of the time.

As in many games the Navy got the winning run in the ninth on a real "break." With one away, Walker smashed his second triple of the night against the centre-field fence and scored on Van Hatten's double to left centre. Dumeah grounded to pitcher Prior for the second out. Killum went in to pinch hit for Coy and drew a walk. Weigand smashed a ground ball at second baseman Reigner for what looked like a cinch out, but the ball hit a tuft of grass and bounced off Reigner's head to allow Van Hatten to cross the plate with the winning run. The game was called owing to darkness, the teams having played the last inning with the light failing fast.

NO EXCUSES

Army had no excuses for losing. Twice they moved into command but their pitchers were unable to hold the advantage. Jerry Whitney, who started, left the game in the fourth after giving up nine hits for eight runs. Bill Prior, who replaced him, was charged with the defeat, being nicked for four hits and a like number of runs. Harry Berringer opened in the box for the Navy, but lasted just two and one-third innings, being charged with five hits and eight runs. Jimmy Dumeah, second Navy hurler, gave up six hits and three runs and was the winning pitcher.

Walker, Navy right fielder, and Dietrick, who covers second base for the sailors, were the big men with the stick in their team's victory. The former poked out a two-run homer in the fourth and smashed two triples while Dietrick came up with a perfect night at the plate, four for four. Dietrick drove in four runs and it was his bat that punched across two runs for the sailors in the fifth to tie the score at 10 to 10.

In the third inning Nick Metz, Army shortstop, hit the ball out of the park with the bases empty. Army greeted the Navy with a four-run scoring spree to open the game and it looked like a walkaway. Navy came back with a single score in their half of the inning and added two in second. Army replied with five more tallies in the third and another single in the fourth to lead 10 to 3. Still showing plenty of fight the Navy got five runs themselves in the last of the fourth and tied the score with two in the fifth.

Sixth and seventh innings saw both teams go scoreless. Despite the darkness the umms waved the teams on to the field for another inning. Kreller opened for the Army with a bloomer over shortstop for a single. Kennedy struck out. Kreller pilfered second. Cousins grounded out to Dumeah. Metz lined the ball over shortstop for a single scoring Kreller and giving the Army the lead. But the margin was not enough as the Navy came through with their thrilling rally to win the game and enter the final.

Navy had a bad night in the field with six errors, shortstop Coy being responsible for four of them.

Short score follows:

Army	11	11	2
Navy	12	13	6

Batteries—Whitney, Prior and Sawchuk; Berringer, Dumeah and Effner, Berringer.

LACROSSE TONIGHT

The other record was by a Wisconsin colt, Judith Mc, 2:15, owned by the Blue Heather Farm of La Crosse, Wis., which came home first in the second heat in 2:07 after winning the first in 2:13½.

Blackfish Carries Away Rod, Second Angler Hooks It

Matthew Lamont, 740 Newbury Avenue, and J. W. Archer, 1404 Esquimalt Road, were the principals in a fishing incident at Brentwood Wednesday night that rates a spot in Bob Ripley's "Believe It Or Not."

The pair were fishing for salmon in separate boats when a large blackfish surfaced between the craft. Immediately Lamont got a terrific "strike" on his line. The catch hit with such force it carried his brand new rod over the side of the boat.

Some time later Archer again noticed the blackfish near the top of the water and quite close. This time he was the one to get the "strike." After considerable line had played out and he finally pulled in Lamont's line and rod, his plug having hooked onto the line.

After rescuing the equipment Archer noticed a large piece of what he described like "elephant's hide" on Lamont's hooks. The theory is that Archer hooked onto the line while it was still embedded in the skin of the blackfish.

Wage Disparity

Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor of the Supreme Court of Alberta, and chairman of the western labor board, says the high wages paid by U.S. construction firms have created difficulties for the board, which is besieged by Canadians seeking equal wages.

"We sympathize with Canadian workmen employed on American projects. There are 1,495 Canadians employed by American contractors at prices fixed according to the Nov. 1, 1941, ceiling, while their associates are drawing $25 to $50 more a month, but there is the grave danger of inflation to guard against," said Mr. Justice O'Connor, visiting the city after presiding over the board's sessions at Vancouver.

"It is our duty," he added, "to fix rates of wages which will recruit sufficient labor for western defence projects with a minimum dislocation of the wage ceiling."

Speculation Starts On Civic Elections

Civic election speculation, well in advance of the season this year, was under way in Victoria this week as the annual guessing game on possibilities of a mayoralty contest started.

Possibly contributing to the earliness of the discussions were appointments made Monday of commissioners for taking registrations for the voters' list. The list will be opened at the beginning of September and registration will continue to the end of October.

While major concern is expected to centre in a mayoralty fight, rumors of strong labor support for definite labor candidates added interest to the general field.

Prominently mentioned as potential opposition for Mayor Andrew McCallin, his seventh successive term, are men already in civic politics. Names include those of Dr. G. A. B. Hall, present school trustee, former mayor of Nanaimo and veteran of former Victoria School Boards, Ald. Ed. Williams, who is junior only to Ald. Archie Willis in the present council ring, Ald. B. J. Gadsden and Ald. D. D. McTavish. Their names are discussed without comment from the men themselves.

Indications point to one of the largest voters' list on record this year, with a number of war workers with adequate residence qualifications swelling the ranks of the regular voters. To secure registration, citizens must be 21 years or over, be British subjects and either own property in Victoria or pay requisite road and poll taxes. They must have lived in Victoria since the first of the year before they are entitled to vote if they are not property owners.

H. J. W. Phillips Dies

Cougar Killed

The eight-foot cougar which killed Guy Pears' goat on Bentick Island, has made his last kill.

Mr. Pears secured the help of A. E. "Don" Parker, Rocky Point, and his brother, Arthur, and their collie dogs, who breed and shot the animal Wednesday evening at 7.

Lieut. Brooke Cornwall is spending his army furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Cornwall, 584 Vincent Avenue.

W.V.S. to Organize
Mrs. G. H. Selous, chairman, speakers committee, Women's Voluntary Service in Vancouver, inspecting Victoria salvage organization today said she was very much impressed by the work of the B.C. Salvage Corps, but very surprised that Victoria has no W.V.S.

Toronto, she said, has a W.V.S. membership of 8,000, Winnipeg has 7,000 and the Vancouver membership is growing rapidly. There will be a public drive September 13 to 20 by the W.V.S. to bring as many cities as possible into the organization, she said, expressing the hope that Victoria would come in then.

Aged Man Struck By Street Car; Dies

James Alexander, 82-year-old former miner, died early today at Royal Jubilee Hospital. He had been injured four hours before when struck by a B.C. Electric Railway Co. streetcar on Esquimalt Road near Signal Hill.

Esquimalt police reported Mr. Alexander was struck by a No. 4 streetcar operated by Ernest Bukin, 120 Sims Road, Saanich, at about midnight. Police said the old man was walking on the streetcar tracks.

Attended by a naval ambulance squad who rushed the injured man to hospital, Mr. Alexander was attended by Dr. E. L. McNiven and house physicians.

Mr. Alexander had been on the city and municipal police records as missing since Tuesday when he left the Saanich Health Centre, where he had been an inmate for 10 days, in custody of a friend. Until recently, Mr. Alexander lived on the Esquimalt Lagoon, where he was known as "Old Alex."

Many years ago Mr. Alexander lived on the west coast of Vancouver Island. He told stories of his experiences there to many Victorians who visited his cabin on the Esquimalt Spit. His tales of the fertility of the soil near Long Beach and the huge vegetables they grew there in those days were of particular interest to his acquaintances in the younger generation in these times of food restrictions and rationing.

It is believed he had two brothers in the United States, one at Kalamazoo, Mich.
Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, said an inquest would be held.

Island Casualties

Pte. Leonard Melburn Bowers, whose wife resides at 812 Russell Street, Victoria, was wounded in action in Sicily.

Other island men listed as wounded in the 9th official Canadian army list covering the Sicilian campaign, include: Pte. Robert Rae, Duncan; Pte. Frederick William Taylor, Lady-smith; Cpl. Hugh Mercer, Chalmers; and Pte. Henry Butler Greenhough, North Galliano Island.

Sicily Canadians Win World Admirations, Says McNaughton

WITH CANADIANS IN SICILY (Delayed, CP)—Lt. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian army overseas, told Canadian troops here today that "you have won the admiration of Canada and the whole world for the way you carried out your tasks in this campaign."

During a tour of practically every Canadian camp in Sicily, the commander congratulated officers and men "on behalf of the people at home, and the army in England."

Twelve hours after arriving in Sicily, Gen. McNaughton began to visit the camps where the troops have been resting since their exhausting campaign during which they drove from the Pachino beaches to the slopes of Mount Etna.

LITTLE FORMALITY

There was little formality about his tour. He just went around quietly, meeting the officers, seeing equipment, and talking to the men. It was exactly like the periodic visit the army commander makes to the divisions in England.

Maj. Gen. Guy Simonds, commander of the 1st Division, a position that McNaughton himself held in the early months of the war—accompanied the commander in his tour, which started shortly after dawn and lasted until nightfall.

With Gen. McNaughton and Gen. Simonds were Brig. A. E. Walford of Montreal and Maj. Don Clark of Vancouver, who flew to Sicily with the commander. Lieut. Cliff Wood of Vancouver, Gen. Simonds' new aide de camp, drove with them.

Gen. McNaughton, wearing khaki shorts and a bush shirt, went at top speed all day, talking to scores of officers about the campaign, about the performances of their vehicles, guns and equipment, and about tactics.

With his senior officers, Gen. McNaughton discussed future plans. The army commander was smiling more than usual and showing immense pride in the achievements of the division. He spent an hour or so with each brigadier.

There is a busy program ahead of Gen. McNaughton. He will confer with a number of top Allied military leaders in Sicily as well as spend as much time as possible with the Canadians.

Raid On Germany

SEATTLE (AP)—Air Commodore D. R. Blackford, air attaché to the British embassy in Washington, said in an interview here that "the air attacks on Germany were the quickest and most effective method of bringing aid to Russia."

"For example," he added, "the raids on Rostock and Lubek kept supplies from being sent across the Baltic to the Nazi forces which were preparing to attack Leningrad last year. As a result, the Leningrad offensive never developed at all."

"The German air force is stretched to its limit," he added. "I think it is common knowledge they have been compelled to concentrate on defence—that is, they are producing fighter planes at the expense of the bombers. That's one of the reasons why we're giving so much attention to their fighter factories."

Hongkong Raided

NEW YORK (AP)—Tokyo reported today 20 Allied bombers and fighters attempted to attack Hongkong Wednesday in two separate raids. The broadcast was recorded by the Associated Press.

The radio said a few bombs were dropped from a high altitude by a formation of 13 planes which attacked during the morning and that slight damage was caused. The announcement claimed the attackers were "immediately repulsed" by anti-aircraft batteries.

Seven planes which approached the city in the afternoon were "forced to flee," the broadcast claimed.

Another Tokyo broadcast claimed that between June 30 and Aug. 25 Japanese forces in the Solomons had sunk nine Allied cruisers and 11 destroyers and destroyed 836 planes. The claims were without Allied confirmation.

The broadcast claimed an additional four cruisers, eight destroyers, and 78 planes were damaged.

Seeks Divorce

NEW YORK (AP)—Tommy Manville said today he had called it quits with his seventh wife, the former Marie (Sunny) Almsworth whom he married Wednesday, and that he would seek an annulment.

Fuel committee of the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference will meet tonight at 8 in 602 Broughton St.

Never Criticized Teachers In Class

Denial that he ever reprimanded a teacher before a class was voiced by Dr. J. Morris Thomas, principal of Mount View High School, at the morning hearing today of the public inquiry into Mount View High School affairs in County Court-house.

Thomas repeated a statement he made at Wednesday's hearing to the effect that he went to a teacher's classroom and in a whisper requested a delayed report, but that he did not criticize teachers before their classes. The statement was made during the course of his cross-examination by M. B. Jackson, K.C., counsel for the commission.

The witness reiterated statements to the effect that during the strapping incident of Jan. 5 he was not in a state of anger or of loss of self-control.

Speedy Distribution Of Ration Books

Experience gained on the last occasion is speeding the present distribution of new ration books, A. B. Food, ration officer, said today.

"All those receiving No. 3 ration books during the campaign this week, should check their books carefully to establish that the proper number of coupon sheets and cards are included, as it has been found that there is a small percentage of printer's errors in the books.

Voluntary workers at the distributing centres have been careful to check as many books as they can, but during the rush it is naturally possible that some defective books may have escaped attention.

For the guidance of the public, each complete ration book No. 3 should contain the following sheets: 1 green sheet tea/coffee coupons, 1 pink sheet sugar coupons, 2 orchid sheets butter coupons, 3 buff sheets meat coupons, 2 sheets C coupons, 1 sheet D coupons, 1 sheet E coupons, 1 sheet F coupons, 1 card marked RB-99, 1 card marked RB-137, 1 sheet marked Application RB-140.

It has been found that in some cases excess sheets have been inserted in error. When the holder of a new book discovers that there is an error in it, the complete book should be presented to the ration administration, 402 Union Bldg., for immediate adjustment and the public's co-operation in this matter will be greatly appreciated by the board.

The public is also requested to obtain new Ration Book No. 3 from the nearest distributing centre in the district rather than to concentrate on one or two main centres.

All citizens, when applying for their new book, should present Ration Book No. 2 with the first postcard in the book properly completed.

City-owned Houses May Be Converted

W. Sutherland, district director, national housing administration, views favorably the proposal to convert certain city-owned dwellings into multiple family units, Ald. T. W. Hawkins, chairman of the city lands department, reported today.

The alderman visited certain structures with Mr. Sutherland, Wednesday, and reported the federal official had indicated support of the suggestion to change 104 Dallas Road and 1753 Rockland, the old Victoria Operatic Society headquarters, into suites to relieve the housing plan.

Under the scheme the federal government takes over the properties at a nominal rental for five years, makes necessary conversions, and then returns the property to the owner at the completion of the five-year term. Before action is taken on the city-owned houses, approval will have to be secured from the lands committee, and possibly the City Council, Ald. Hawkins said.

A request from the national housing administration for the improvement of taxation on the improvements incurred through conversion could not be granted, F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, said today. No legislative power was available to permit such exemption, he said.

Children Demonstrate Playground Activity

Demonstrations of the routines they have followed under playground supervision at Beacon Hill Park were given by children to parents and friends Wednesday evening under the direction of Miss Anne Lyster, supervisor.

The display opened with a play "Down the Croesus Tunnel," under the direction of Miss Dorothy Davies, and developed into a series of events showing the recreational and hobby activities of the program.

Druggists Drive To Put City Top For War Savings

At a meeting today of the Victoria committee in charge of the drive by B.C. druggists to sell war saving stamps, plans will be made to make the results of the campaign as outstanding in the west as they were last September when Victoria established a lead over every other Canadian city and British Columbia headed all the provinces.

The Victoria committee consists of R. V. Jenkins, chairman; Howard Knott, secretary; Art Minnis, W. Bond and M. Grant, representing leading druggists in the city. Features of the campaign will probably follow the plans for Vancouver where druggists are co-operating in staging concerts, ball games, etc.

F. H. Fullerton, editor of the official organ of the Pharmaceutical Association of British Columbia, says:

"British Columbia druggists have donated over $1,000 to be distributed in prizes in a free drawing to be held at the end of the September campaign to sell War Savings Stamps through drug stores. First prize is a General Electric refrigerator valued at $350; second prize a set of matched baggage. Other prizes include gift certificates, war savings certificates and many other articles. The prizes have been selected not only from the standpoint of monetary value, but every article on the list also has a high scarcity value. Every purchaser of a War Savings Stamp in a British Columbia drug store during September will receive a free ticket on the draw."

This is only one of many ideas that have been developed to help B.C. druggists retain the position in this year's national drive when they led Canada in stamp sales. A quota of $50,000 has been established by the committee for B.C. drug store sales in the 30-day campaign.

J. P. Southcott and F. A. Miggins, president and vice-president of the Drug Travelers' Association in B.C., and F. H. Fullerton are now on an organization tour of Vancouver Island. Meetings have been held at Port Alberni and Courtenay, Tuesday evening a meeting of druggists from Nanaimo, Ladysmith and Chemainus was held at the Malaspina Hotel, when the three visiting officials outlined the national and provincial promotional campaign. Local druggists and members of their store staff all pledge their co-operation, and each store will also develop individual ideas to promote stamp sales in their own stores.

New Law Bans Erasures On Liquor Permits

City police Wednesday were informed of an amendment to the Government Liquor Act to make it illegal to make an erasure, change or alteration to entries or endorsements of individual liquor permits or special permits. The new regulation, the notice said, will come into effect Sept. 1.

The announcement was made by Chief J. A. McLellan. According to the amendment it will also be illegal for a person to present an individual or special permit which has been erased, changed, altered or defaced at a government liquor store to obtain liquor.

Cumberland Man Serving In Aleutians

WITH THE CANADIAN ARMY AT AN ADVANCED ALEUTIAN BASE (CP)—This Canadian invasion force has many men from western Canada. There are former farmers like Pte. Merle Mundorf, 25, of Stettler, Alta., and fellows like Cpl. G. McFarland, 37, of Cumberland, B.C., who left "a good job" with the Finance Department of the B.C. government to join the army.

Victoria Again Leads Gasoline Reduction

Greater Victoria in July again continued to lead the rest of the province in cutting its consumption of gasoline for pleasure and non-essential driving. The decrease was 18.7 per cent compared with July a year ago.

Vancouver cut its consumption 18.7 per cent.

Demonstration was given by boys who fought good-heartedly with folded newspapers. An Indian dance with children in costume followed and three girls tap-danced "Three Blind Mice." A boys' tumbling exhibition and pyramids by girls completed that section of the show.

Handicraft work, including paper houses, chairs, snakes, windmills and other toys, leather work, clay modelling and drum-making, drew considerable interest.

Friday morning parents are invited to see their children wind up the swimming course at the Crystal Garden at 9:30.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE

QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy or Cunninghamham Drug Store, or any drugist, and use as directed. This formula which is used internally, is a small, easy-to-take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore, tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

All Men 16 to 40 Years Under Labor Transfer Order

OTTAWA (CP)—Arthur MacNamara, director of National Selective Service, has announced issuance of the sixth compulsory labor transfer order, bringing under the scope of such transfers all men from 16 to 40 years of age.

Several days ago it was announced this action would be taken. Previously the labor transfer provisions of selective service regulations applied only to men in age and marital classes designated as eligible for military call-up, and to youths of 16, 17 and 18.

"While the sixth order includes men in marital classes not covered by the previous orders, no occupations not already covered by the first five orders are included in the list now issued," said Mr. MacNamara's statement.

"In fact, the list of occupations involved in this sixth order is a consolidation of all occupations included in the five preceding orders."

"The general conditions under which the men who now for the first time become eligible for compulsory transfer will be dealt with, are identically the same as in the case of earlier orders," the statement said.

"Ex-servicemen, although required to register, will not be compelled to accept jobs other than those they now occupy—although where these men may be considered as eligible for transfer, efforts will be made to induce them to move to more important work."

NOT TO BE MOVED

"Men with domestic responsibilities for the present will not be required to transfer to employment involving a change of residence," Mr. MacNamara said.

The statement said it would be illegal for any employer to continue employing any man covered by the new order after Sept. 8 except under special National Selective Service permit. Employees affected have to register with the nearest employment and selective service office not later than Sept. 8 and be available for transfer to higher priority work.

"It is the intention that there shall be further compulsory employment transfer orders issued," Mr. MacNamara said, adding that "from this time on each order will cover all males from 16 to 40 who are listed in the occupations listed in the particular order."

"Progressively, selective service will examine the present employment of practically all of the men in the age groups mentioned now working in industry, with a view to increasing the usefulness of the individual by moving him to higher priority work wherever that is practical."

Sugar-Home Brew

Racket in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Winnipeg Free Press said today there is a black market in sugar somewhere in Greater Winnipeg, and that most of it is going into the manufacture of home-brewed alcohol.

The newspaper said police were certain sugar was being illegally sold to bootleggers.

Seizures of illegal alcohol in the last two or three months have shown a sharp upturn, and the Free Press said:

"Much of the brew being sold in Winnipeg today is being sold as a United States product. In many cases a small can (American size) is used to bottle the thirsty client."

"These small cans have usually sold for $20 apiece, but the regular Canadian gallon can of brew calls for $25."

"That's one of the highest prices the bootleggers have ever received in this city," a police officer told a reporter."

U.S. General Refuses To Pay $5,000 Fine

HONOLULU (AP)—Adjudged

in contempt of federal court and fined $5,000 in a controversy over authority of the military and civil courts, Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson immediately retaliated with a general order forbidding any further action in the case or any attempt to enforce the fine.

Judge Delbert Metzger Wednesday declared Richardson had shown "open and notorious defiance of the mandate of the court."

The judge had upheld validity of a writ of habeas corpus for two men held incommunicado by the army under military law. Richardson retorted that while martial law, imposed after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, had been partially relaxed, the civil right of habeas corpus still was suspended.

Then Judge Metzger ordered the general into court Wednesday to show cause why he should not be held in contempt. Richardson did not appear and was fined $5,000.

Thereupon, Richardson, as commanding general of the army's Hawaiian department, issued a general order banning further action in the habeas corpus case.

'Hitler's Children'
Showing at Cadet

An authentic picture of Nazism in operation inside Germany as recorded by a school teacher who lived there for years and saw it at first hand is given to audiences in RKO Radio's "Hitler's Children," now at the Cadet Theatre.

Based on the sensational factual book, "Education For Death," by Gregor Ziemer, the film is a dramatic love story played against the sinister philosophy which is being instilled into German youth and the tragic fate which befalls those who refuse to be converted.

'Soft Shoulders'
Feature at Rio

Sheila Ryan, Ralph Byrd and Aubrey Mather have prominent roles in support of Virginia Bruce and James Ellison in "Careful, Soft Shoulders," 20th Century-Fox's new spy thriller, now at the Rio Theatre.

Miss Ryan recently completed the leading feminine role in
"A-Haunting We Will Go," while Byrd, who was recently signed to a long-term contract, has quietly moved ahead in young character roles.

'Footlight Serenade'
On York Screen Today

Probably one reason for the lasting popularity of Gregory Ratoff among Hollywood's thousands of extras is the fairness he displays in his dealings with them.

The most recent example of this was an occurrence on the set of "Footlight Serenade," the 20th Century-Fox musical starring John Payne, Betty Grable and Victor Mature, today at the York Theatre. Ratoff had to select eight extras out of 500 for brief speaking parts. Instead of picking them at random, he let them all draw lots, with the result that losers, as well as the winners felt that they had been given a square deal.

Young Star Leads
In Dominion Film

Edward Arnold plays the father of Virginia Weidler in her first
"nearly grown-up role," and her first screen lead, in "The Youngest Profession," whimsical comedy of adolescence and a girls-fan club, coming Friday to the Dominion Theatre. Virginia gets into many complications while pursuing Greer Garson, Lana Turner, William Powell, Robert Taylor and Walter Pidgeon, who play themselves as guest stars,
for autographs, and in the meantime straightens out her father's tangled domestic life, in a series of hilarious situations.

'Bittersweet' Opens
At Oak Bay Tonight

The music of Noel Coward, without doubt some of the most charming ever to reach the screen, finds its perfect interpreters in Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, the incomparable song team united again in the picturization of the Coward opera, "Bitter Sweet,"
which opened today at the Oak Bay Theatre.

The stars were never in better voice, and never sang in a more colorful setting, for the gay nineties period in which the story is set is brilliantly reproduced in Technicolor.

CAPITOL THEATRE

The autographs of Tyrone Power, Anne Baxter, Dana Andrews, James Gleason and other members of the cast of 20th Century-Fox's thrilling Technicolor film, "Crash Dive," are now traveling the high seas.

While the cast was on location at the big naval submarine base at New London, Conn., for action shots of the picture, which is currently at the Capitol Theatre, they were asked to autograph an original script of the picture for the sub's sailors. The bound script then became a permanent fixture in the wardroom of the Hair-raising adventures and a the Plaza Theatre. A thrilling man, Nazi protector in Czechoslovakia.

Store Man Saw
Farnsworth Fall

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The coroner's office ordered an autopsy today on the death of Arthur Farnsworth, 36, husband of screen actress Bette Davis and western representative of a Minneapolis film manufacturing aeronautical equipment.

Farnsworth, former commercial pilot, succumbed Wednesday to injuries suffered in a manner which police said was puzzling.
Miss Davis, at the bedside when death came, was overcome by grief and placed under a physician's care.

Det. Sgt. H. R. Johnson reported Dave Freedman, tobacco store proprietor, told him Farnsworth fell in front of his store.
Freedman related that Farnsworth uttered a muffled cry and fell backward, his head striking the walk, the police report said.

Canadians Hope
To Be Moved
From Kiska

By WILLIAM L. WORDEN

KISKA HARBOR, KISKA (Delayed, AP)—There isn't a real hero on Kiska tonight.

Highly trained, worked to a fever pitch in anticipation of battle, the Kiska attacking force tonight is a somewhat puzzled,
very damp collection of Americans and Canadians who still do not know exactly what should be their own reactions to the queer denouement of the war in the Aleutians.

"There's no denying we're all let down," said Maj. George Edwards of Guelph, Ont., who brought a Canadian artillery unit ashore. "Everybody realizes it's better this way than having to fight for the island, but you just can't get over the feeling of being cheated."

Maj. Edwards looked around him at half-a-dozen men of his unit, seated around the edges of a Japanese officers' hut which now is a temporary cook shack
for the Canadians who reached Kiska Harbor on a seven or eight-mile hike across the tundra from Bamboo Bay.

DRY THEIR CLOTHES

The Canadians admitted they had nothing much to think about except getting their socks dry and wondering how long the soaking rain would last. The rain dripped through machine-gun holes in the roof of the shack and splattered steadily on the Japanese heating stove, which is already in Canadian use.

For Brig. Harry W. Foster of Halifax and Pictou, Ont., Canadian commander, the end of the march across the island was another Jap hut, so dark he had trouble finding a place where he could see to shave.

"I can't see," he said, "can ever say truthfully that he regrets there was no battle. Myself, I think we're extremely lucky to get anything as valuable as Kiska without having to fight for it."

Lieut. G. M. Grant, Edmonton and Lieut. Davis Broadfoot of Red Cliff, Alta., found themselves a home, including a swivel chair, in a hut which the Japs had miraculously left fairly clean.

"It would be swell," Grant said,
"if it just didn't leak in so many places. Those strafing planes really hit everything when they came over here."

Broadfoot admitted that he,
like his men, was chiefly concerned now with the question of whether Canadians would form a part of the permanent Kiska garrison, or be moved elsewhere. He was frank to admit he was hoping for the latter.

"This Kiska," he said, "isn't a very cheery place, you know."

Famed Mechanic
Of Planes Dies

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont.

(CP)—William Hill, considered one of the ablest mechanics in the Ontario provincial air service, died suddenly here Wednesday.

Hill once faced an 800-mile trip by dogteam in the winter when his plane cracked up at Fort Simpson, N.W.T., but instead of walking he whittled an airplane propeller that proved workable enough to bring the plane home to Edmonton.

No one knew the native land of the common lilac until 1828, when it was reported in western Rumania.

THAT MEANS TWO YEARS SERVICE!

"Yes, girls—two years ago I was wondering, just like you are, what life would be like in the CWAC. Today I can tell you it's a grand life for any girl."

"The Canadian Women's Army Corps offers you a chance to travel and see new places, meet new friends, and enjoy comradeship that you never find in civilian life. You'll be healthier because of the healthful routine and good food and quarters... and you'll be happier with that feeling of doing something really useful in the war effort."

The CWAC has achieved a splendid reputation for efficiency and performance in every way. More girls are needed urgently. If you are 18 to 45, physically fit, single or married without dependents, don't miss the grand adventure of serving in the CWAC.

Dorothy Dix:

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a boy of 20 who is going to college and who is constantly pursued by a working girl of 18 whom I do not love. Even though I have tried my best to avoid her and neglect her, she still calls me and "forgives" me when I don't want to be forgiven. Because I am very conscientious and felt sorry for her I took her out a few times with the idea that we would just be friends and no more, but she acted so seriously that to avert this I purposely acted like anything but a gentleman. Although she has told me she loves me, I have not told her that I do not love her. How can I tell her this without hurting her?
B. Y.

Answer: You will have to treat her rough to get rid of her. To deal gently and diplomatically with her is just as risky as it would be to stop and pet a lion that was pursuing you. When a girl like that makes up her mind to get a boy, nothing stops her but telling her in the most emphatic manner that you do not even like her; that she repulses you, and that you want her to let you alone. Then keep away from her.

Millions of men have married women they didn't love and have been miserable ever after because they didn't have enough backbone to say no, never, when the poor dears told them how they loved them and wept on the second button of their vests.

Cafe Men Denounce 'Sitting Around' At Selective Service

VANCOUVER—Vancouver restaurant owners agreed with criticism of Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson in police court Monday last that the local Selective Service Board "is not functioning as smoothly and efficiently as it might." They reported dissatisfaction with the board's methods and regulations.

Employers blamed the board for holding up the flow of labor to their business and declared that there is help available, but the board doesn't "fill their orders."

Magistrate Matheson voiced his criticism as he fined Chris Grill, 872 Granville, $25 and costs for employing waitresses without permits from the board.

SITTING AROUND

The restaurant company pleaded guilty, but contended that it was almost impossible to employ girls as required by the regulations because of the tardiness of employees at the board offices here.

The magistrate said there might be a reason for the hold-up at the board as the system is new, but asked "What else could the company do under the circumstances?"

Other restaurant owners report similar conditions. One waitress told her employer that she had been waiting at the board offices every day for a week after shifts for a permit to work, but so far all she had accomplished was "a lot of sitting around."

She is illegally employed, but has done her best to get a permit. She doesn't know whether to go back or not. "The girls down there seem to have all kinds of time," she said.

DON'T LIKE BOARD

One cafe owner reported that some of his employees refused to go to the board for permits, but he didn't know the reason.

"They will quit their jobs before they will go to Selective Service," he said. "They're willing to work, but don't want to have anything to do with the board."

He said that one girl came to him from Kamloops some weeks ago looking for a job. She tried for a whole week to get a permit, but finally gave up in disgust and went home.

Closing down of part of his restaurant and complete shut-down on Sundays was reported by one owner because of the lack of help. He had telephoned every week to the board and even gone down to see officials, but can get no relief, he said. "I see girls standing around down there waiting for work every time I go down there," he said. "They tell me there is no demand for waitress work, but I could get girls if it wasn't for the board and its permits."

Thunderclouds Have Store of Lightning-Making Electricity

Another name for a "thundercloud" might well be "electric cloud." It contains electricity, and the electricity moves.

When a "jump" of electricity makes a giant electric spark, there is lightning. With the lightning comes thunder.

Rain falls from several kinds of clouds, but the cumulonimbus is the one which most often sends down a heavy shower of rain. It is a thundercloud. Sometimes it drops hail instead of rain.

THUNDER-CLOUDS OFTEN BRING HAIL.

HAILSTONES BIGGER THAN TENNIS BALLS FELL DURING A STORM IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Clouds are among the most important things in the world of Nature. We could not do without those which send down rain. If there were no rain, the crops would fail to grow. Even the grass would die, and grazing animals would lose their main food supply.

The word "cumulus" means "heap," and the meaning of "nimbus" may be given as "rain-cloud." So a cumulo-nimbus cloud may be called a "heaped-up rain-cloud."

We sometimes see the outline of a distant cloud of this kind and may note "towers" rising from it. The outline may make us think of a mountain with a number of peaks.

If the cloud is straight overhead, we can see only its base. The base is likely to be a full mile above the ground.

The lower side of such a cloud may have an area of less than a quarter of a square mile. On the other hand it may be of great size, with an area of from 80 to 100 square miles.

A cumulo-nimbus cloud of record size was measured by an airplane pilot in 1941. He found it was 20 miles wide and 60 miles long!

If that cloud had been of perfect oblong shape, its area would have been 1,200 square miles. Nature does not give us perfect squares or oblongs in clouds, but the cloud mentioned probably had an area at the base of at least 1,000 square miles.

The base of an overhead cloud tells little about its thickness. Weathermen and pilots, however, have measured many cumulo-nimbus clouds. It is common for such clouds to be from half a mile to three miles thick.
